Time to strike inside Pakistan: Uddhav

AGENCIES / Mumbai

Shiv Sena chief Uddhav Thackeray on Friday said the Pulwama terror attack has shown that it is now time to "strike inside Pakistan". If an intelligence failure led to the terrorist attack on the CRPF convoy in Jammu and Kashmir, those who were in charge should be removed, he said. After surgical strikes of 2016, it is now time to "strike inside Pakistan", he said, talking to reporters here. Thackeray said, "The issues of alliances, elections will be there. But Pakistan must not be allowed to go scot-free. It should be taught a befitting lesson." He was replying to a question about his meeting with Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis about the Sena-BJP alliance on Thursday. "You (the BJP-led Union government) conducted surgical strike in Pak-occupied-Kashmir: Now the time has come to strike inside Pakistan. The entire country supports the government on this issue," Thackeray said. "This is not just a terror attack. It has blown the country's intelligence system into smithereens," he said, demanding action against those who failed to take necessary steps to prevent such incidents in spite of being in charge. "Instead of making tall claims, Pakistan needs to be taught a lesson once and for all.

Pawar calls for unity, takes dig at PM Modi

AGENCIES / Mumbai

Nationalist Congress Party chief Sharad Pawar on Friday said the Pulwama terror attack was an attack on the nation and there should be no attempts to politicise the issue. The former Union minister also took a swipe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi over some of the latter's statements during the Congress-led UPA regime. Speaking to reporters on home turf Baramati in Pune district, Pawar called Thursday's attack on the CRPF convoy in Jammu and Kashmir as an attack on the nation. "I can remember, Prime Minister Modi, before coming to power, used to say in his election rallies that (then PM) Manmohan Singh's government had failed to teach Pakistan a lesson (after such attacks). "He (Modi) used to say the Manmohan Singh government did not have ability to teach a lesson (to Pakistan). He also used to remark that only those with a 56-inch chest could administer a tough lesson to Pakistan," Pawar said. Modi, in his rallies, used to exhort people to replace the UPA government with that of the BJP so that Pakistan could be given a befitting reply for such terror attacks, Pawar told reporters. "But everyone has seen what has happened now. But today I will not repeat that same demand which he (Modi) had made (at that time)," Pawar said.

MHADA to sue defaulters for failure to pay ₹130cr as rent for transit flats

SWEETY ADIMULAM Mumbai

The Maharashtra Housing and Area Development Authority (MHADA) is planning to file a recovery suit against defaulting developers, who have been renting transit flats from the authority to provide alternative accommodation to project-affected people, in order to recover Rs 130 crore in arrears going back to 2006. Not just this, MHADA will also file a first information report (FIR) against these defaulters, said Vinod Ghosalkar, a former legislator and chairman of the Mumbai Building Repairs & Reconstruction Board (MBRRB) on Wednesday. redevelopment projects. Only when these rented transit homes are vacated by these builders can MHADA accommodate its own project-affected people. Moreover, these transit houses are in the heart of the city," he pointed out. As per the MHADA, there is no provision to give corpus to the tenants of redevelopment projects and it cannot give rents as builders do, to bag projects. But since people have learned from experience that builders fail to complete the project on time, they are keen that MHADA should undertake the redevelopment. Ghosalkar said, "In such cases, we need more transit houses in reserve, only then can we go ahead and undertake redevelopment projects." "The inhabitants of Mumbai - the Marathi manoes is being thrown out of the city. The rents of flats in Mumbai are Rs 25,000 and above. As people cannot afford this, they are forced to stay away from the city. If we get our transit homes back, which have been with the builders from the past several years, we can provide alternative accommodation in Mumbai city itself," asserted Ghosalkar. Apart from taking stringent action against these defaulters, the MHADA has also sent a proposal to the state asking clarification about 21 redevelopment projects in Mahim. Here, the developer has been given a no-objection certicate(NOC) but has failed to even start or complete the project. Therefore, in 2012, their NOCs had been cancelled and it was decided not to issue NOCs again. Ghosalkar said, "Now we have informed the state that people want MHADA to undertake the Mahim project. Until now, MHADA only had the authority to cancel NOCs. Therefore, we have proposed those who want redevelopment by MHADA should be allowed to do so and those who want a developer to undertake the project, too should be considered. This will pave the way for MHADA to undertake redevelopment projects where the builder has failed to complete the task. MHADA can once again acquire these properties and go ahead with the redevelopment, if it gets a nod."

Organ recipient gets new life in city's lifeline

In a first, organ transported by local train saves patient

STAFF REPORTER
Mumbai

In a first, a local has been used as a "green corridor" to transport an organ from one hospital to another, saving precious time by avoiding traffic congestion and ensuring the organ reached the destination in the nick of time. The execution was perfect with proper coordination by doctors, Central Railway (CR) and traffic police. The organ donor was a 53-year-old man who had met with an accident and was admitted to Jupiter Hospital on February 13. However, two days later, the patient had stopped responding to the treatment and was declared braindead. The family were unaware of organ donation of braindead patients and a way to keep their loved one alive through the organs. "The family was counselled regarding organ donation and after their consent, the doctors prepared for liver donation. Moreover, since the patient had undergone a heart bypass surgery, his heart could not be retrieved. That is why, his liver was donated," said a doctor from Jupiter hospital who operated upon the patient. On Friday, the patient's doctors had been informed of a 30-year-old patient in Global hospital who was in need of a liver and was slated to undergo a liver transplant. The doctors retrieved the patient's liver and stored it in an ice-box and left Jupiter Hospital at 2.50pm. The medical team decided to use the local and reached Thane station at 3pm and boarded a train for Dadar. The medical team used the first class compartment. The train reached Dadar at 3.35pm and an ambulance was waiting to receive the organ outside platform 6 at Dadar. "The ambulance was earmarked for a liver transplant at Parel's Global Hospital. The ambulance took nearly 10 minutes to reach Parel and the liver recipient was being readied for a transplant." A CR senior official said the Dadar station manager was informed about it. "For safe and swift passage of liver transportation, a dedicated line was created by the railway police force at Dadar. We also alerted traffic police outside Dadar station for smooth movement of the ambulance," he said.

Revamp of 17 abandoned PMGP buildings delayed for 9 years

Notices from MHADA, BMC, Fire dept despite agreement with builder

SUYASH DESAI
Mumbai

The lives of residents of more than 942 apartments in 17 buildings, which are in a dilapidated state, are endangered because redevelopment has not started even after signing the project with Shreepati Infrastructure builder; Rajendra Chaturvedi in 2010. The PMGP-Andheri east residents were relocated to this colony in 1991, after being displaced by the construction of the Jogeshwari-Vikhroli Link Road (JVLR). The Maharashtra Housing and Area Development Authority (MHADA), the BMC and the fire department have been issuing notices to the residents for the last three years. However, they claim they have been waiting for the redevelopment to begin for the last nine years. "Back in 1991, the conditions of the allotted houses were poor. But now, it has worsened. A disaster is waiting to happen," said a resident. The Free Press Journal met a few residents of the PMGP-Andheri Housing Society Association who admitted it's very dangerous to live in the buildings, but blame the builder. "We live in a state of fear daily, as we know any building can come down at any time. The builder must be held responsible. Despite many promises, the builder has not initiated any redevelopment since 2010," said another resident. A tripartite agreement was signed between Shreepati Infrastructure, PMGP (Andheri) Housing Society Association and the MHADA for redevelopment of this colony in 2010. The MHADA even issued no objection certificates (NOCs) for the redevelopment in 2011, 2013 and 2016, but the orders lapsed since no work was initiated. The total area for the redevelopment is 25,000 square metres. "We have issued three NOCs to the builder, but they have lapsed since no work was undertaken within stipulated deadline. We are issuing a fourth NOC on the request of the Housing Association, shortly. In fact, if the Housing Association approaches MHADA directly, we are ready to undertake the redevelopment of their buildings," said Deependra Singh Kushwa, the chief officer, Mumbai board, MHADA. An official confirmed, the builder does not have money to take up the vast redevelopment. "He does not have sufficient funds, yet he signed for the project and is sitting on it ever since," he said. There have been a few developments over a week, when a meeting of Ravindra Waikar, Shiv Sena Minister of State for Housing, builder Chaturvedi and Kushwa was held. They clear said they will issue a final notice to Chaturvedi, else the MHADA will take over this redevelopment project. "On demand of the Housing Association, one final notice will be sent to Chaturvedi. If he does not begin it in the stipulated period, the MHADA will take over the project," said Waikar. Despite repeated calls and messages, the builder remained unavailable for comments.

THANE: A three-year-old boy was rescued by the Thane police on Friday in less than 24 hours after his kidnapping. Police also nabbed the alleged kidnapper, Surajsinh Darasingh (20), a resident of Surat. The boy was kidnapped from near his home in Sahyadri Nagar locality of Ulhasnagar town at 5pm on Thursday, police said. The Crime Branch of Ulhasnagar police suspected Surajsinh, who knew the boy's aunt and who had visited the boy's house to meet her in the morning, could be involved. The accused evaded arrest initially, leading police on a chase, but eventually they could contact him through the boy's aunt, said DCP Deepak Deoraj. Surajsinh allegedly said he would release the boy only if the boy's aunt came alone to collect him at a spot near the Thane railway station at 4 pm on Friday. Police kept a watch and pounced on Surajsinh when he arrived at the spot, and rescued the boy. —Agencies

HEALTH MGMT INFO SYSTEM

JJ accomplishes what is non-starter at govt hosps

SWAPNIL MISHRA / Mumbai

At a time when doctors at the civic-run hospitals are refusing to update data on the centralised health management information system (HMIS), the project has been up and running successfully at the state-run Sir Jambhjee Jeebhoy Hospital for the last four years. It came to light when the civic officials paid a surprise visit to JJ Hospital to check how the HMIS software was being used by doctors. A health official said they learnt the HMIS was easily accessible to JJ doctors, who were updating patients' data daily. "If the doctors can themselves update the data online, why can't the doctors at civic-run hospitals," asked an official who was part of the inspection team. The HMIS is a ground-breaking project that will keep data centralised through an online system. It will store patients' medical history and an inventory of medicines in each hospital, which will help prevent a shortage. After the visit to JJ hospital, the officials reported to the additional civil chief, Idzes Kundan that the doctors themselves were entering data in the system easily. "Following the report, Kundan will hold a meet with the deans of the major hospitals to convince the doctors to use the software instead of demanding data operators," said an official. The BMC has planned to procure "voice-to-text" software to help enter the information. The proposal has been accepted by the standing committee and soon, tenders will be floated.

Two get SC breather in separate cases

OUR BUREAU / New Delhi

The Supreme Court granted bail to two accused sentenced to life imprisonment by the Bombay High Court in different cases. A bench of Justices Mrs R Banumathi and R Subhash Reddy allowed bail to Mansoor Nabib Shaikh jailed since March 26, 2014 on the ground the HC has already granted bail to his co-accused Matin Nabib Shaikh in July 2018. The plea stated both the cases are similar and hence the appellant be released on execution of the bail bonds. The court allowed the bail, giving liberty to the committal court to impose any other conditions. In the second case, a bench of Justices N V Ramana and Mohan Shantanagoudar allowed Kamlu Mahadu Bhande enlarged on bail, taking into account he has served a jail for over 10 years. It allowed him the bail, subject to conditions to be imposed by the trial court, the ASJ Kalyan.

3 of 5 data collecting agencies political: Petitioners to HC

FPJ BUREAU / Mumbai

The petitioners challenging the reservation to the Marathas informed the Bombay HC on Friday three of the five data collecting agencies hired by the State Backward Class Commission have close political proximity to the BJP govt. They alleged the agencies did not even have any prior experience of such data collection for caste-based research. They said the agencies, Rambhau Mahalgi Prabodhini is the official training centre of RSS, Gokhale Institute and Sharda Academy are also close to the RSS. The other two are Shivaji Academy and Gurusripa Sanstha, were the agencies given the task to collect information of Maratha community members. The agencies conducted survey and collected data from Marathas in Kokan, Vidarbha, Western and North Maharashtra and submitted reports. The petitioners questioned why was Mumbai excluded. "Many Marathas work at Mantralaya and other government offices and they were excluded," objected one petitioner. The petitioners challenged the premise of the Backward Class Commission for suggesting quota to Marathas. "It is difficult to believe that Marathas do not have permanent homes, LPG cylinders and that is the premise for declaring them backward," claimed advocate Pradeep Santheti, who represented Sanjit Shukla for the petitioners. The division bench comprised Justices Ranjit More and Bharati Dangre.

6,666 CCTVs to be installed in BMC schools

STAFF REPORTER
Mumbai

After allocating a budget for enhanced security in the BMC schools, 6,666 CCTV cameras will be installed in the 2019-20 academic year. The BMC schools did not have CCTV cameras till now. To ensure safety and security of students, teachers and non-teaching staff, the education department has decided to install CCTV cameras in all civic-run schools. The cameras will also be used to prevent entry of anti-social elements in schools. These will be installed around the plots of the municipal school buildings, which are closed or shut down and at the scout and guide camp sites, since all these properties belong to the civic body. The initiative follows the parents' repeated complaints about negligence of safety of children at the BMC schools. Paresh Naik, a parent said, "Our children are often left unattended in school without any surveillance. We understand teachers cannot attend to every student all the time. In case of an untoward incident, there is no provision to track the happening." In view of the complaints, the education department has allocated ₹24.30 crore for the project. Mahesh Palkar, BMC education officer, said, "We want to enhance safety measures by installing the CCTVs in schools. We want to reassure parents the security of the schoolchildren and staff are our priority." The teachers said the cameras will prevent entry of strangers or druggies in the non-functional or old municipal schools. Mamta Shirke, a teacher said, "Many civic schools are lying non-functional since years and have become a home for druggies and anti-social elements. The cameras will keep a watch on all school buildings and prevent such acts."

MBMC chief tables ₹1,568cr budget

SURESH GOLANI / Bhayandar

Deprived of any big ideas for the twin-city, the Mira Bhayandar Municipal Corporation (MBMC) chief, Balaji Khatgaonkar on Friday presented a ₹1,568 crore budget tagged with a meagre surplus of ₹5 lakh to the standing committee chairman, Ravi Vyas for the fiscal 2019-20. While no tax hikes have been proposed, the civic chief, it seems, have focussed on tapping new avenues of revenue generation, enhancing basic facilities and completing existing infrastructure projects in a time-bound manner. The total anticipated revenue stands at ₹1,568.04 crore, the expected expenditure has been pegged at ₹1,567.99 crore. Unlike the MBMC's

The twin city civic body has allocated ₹103 crore for concrete roads, ₹31 crore for solid waste management (bio mining) and ₹120 crore for the water supply.

age-old tradition, this year, the civic administration has refrained itself from inflating figures. "We will discuss the draft budget on February 21-22 before tabling it for the final approval in the general body. We will ensure the civic amenities are enhanced and funds used in a transparent manner," said Vyas. Apart from allocating ₹103 crore for concrete roads, ₹31 crore for solid waste management (bio mining) and ₹120 crore for the water supply, the MBMC has chalked out an elaborate plan to launch a Mahila Bhavan — the focal point in the twin-city for women where social welfare activities could be carried out inclusive of community network, promotion of art and culture, educational and health care activities, counseling, skill and entrepreneurship development under one roof.

Cable TV goes off air in Bhayandar

Fearing backlash by locals, operators seek police help

SURESH GOLANI
Bhayandar

Confusion on the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India's (TRAI) new channel pricing and subscription tariff regime prevailed as TV screens in hundreds of homes has been blank since Wednesday in Mira-Bhayandar. This despite the switchover deadline has been extended to March 31, 2019. Upset about the abrupt disruption, the irate subscribers are thronging the offices of the local cable operator, demanding explanation and resumption of services.

Upset about the abrupt disruption, the irate subscribers are thronging the offices of the local cable operator, demanding explanation and resumption of services.

Sensing a trouble, helpless cable operators sought police intervention to look into their woes and help them resolve the issue. In letters to the six police stations in Mira Road and Bhayandar divisions of Thane (rural) police, the local cable operators association blamed the multi-service operator (MSO) for arbitrarily blacking out of cable TV services and adamantly refusing to resume services despite repeated pleas. "It's true March 31 is the deadline, but the step is aimed to give a momentum to the selection. Once the subscriber chooses the channels, the services will be restored. However, free-to-air channels have not been restricted," clarified an MSO representative.

"Despite paying the subscription fee in advance, TV channels have gone off air. The cable operator wanted my signatures in forms to resume services, has now gone incommunicado," said one Sandip Yadav. With an option of 100 free-to-air (FTA) channels, the new tariff regime allows viewers to select the channels and pay the maximum retail price for each or bouquet options set by respective broadcasters. Apart from 25 mandatory FTA channels from Doordarshan, viewers can add own FTA or paid channels.

Protest outside Pakistan High Commission in New Delhi

NEW DELHI: A day after the deadly terror attack in Pulwama, a group of people on Friday congregated outside High Commission of Pakistan in New Delhi to stage a protest. The security around the Pakistan High Commission has been escalated as a safety measure following the Pulwama terror attack. Anti-Pakistan protests are being held across the nation to condemn the dastardly terror attack. While key leaders across the globe stood in support of India in the wake of the ghastly attack, anti-Pakistan slogans were raised in Uttar Pradesh.

Gloom descends in Punjab villages

A pall of gloom has descended on their villages on Friday as the families of the CRPF troopers await news about the arrival of the bodies of those slain for the last rites. Villagers and family members vented their anger on the attack and demanded that the Centre should avenge the deaths and give a befitting reply to the Pakistan-backed terrorists. A resident of Ghalauti village in Dharamkot subdivision of Moga district, Jaimal Singh, 44, was the driver of the fateful bus that was blown up in the attack. Satpal Attri, father of Maninder Singh Attri, said that his son had gone back to join duty on February 13 only and had called him up after reaching Jammu.

Dreams went up in smoke in a trice

One was planning the wedding of his daughter, the other eagerly awaiting the arrival of his second child. The dreams of Sanjay Kumar Sinha and Ratan Kumar Thakur went up in smoke in a trice. "My son takes care of the gati (martyrdom). I hope the govt now takes care of the gati (future) of his family," Sanjay's father said. "We were expecting a call from Ratan by the evening as he had told us he would speak to us after joining duty in Srinagar. Instead, we received a call from one of his superiors who broke to us the terrible news," Niranjan Thakur, Ratan's father, said.

Never thought his last visit home

The distraught family of Sudip Biswas waited for his mortal remains to arrive home. Sudip had called up his father on Thursday to enquire about his health. Around 24 hours later, his family received a phone call enquiring about the distinguishing marks on his body. Rajasthan's Bhagirath Singh left his home just two days back for Jammu and Kashmir. His family never imagined it would be his last visit home. Manoj Kumar Behera had called up his home at Ratapur village in Odisha's Cuttack district just hours before the attack took his life. He had promised to call her after reaching Srinagar. The call of course never came.

WE SHALL OVERCOME: CRPF

AGENCIES
New Delhi

The CRPF on Friday said it won't "forget and forgive" but will "avenge" the death of 40 of its personnel in one of the worst terror attacks on its troops in Jammu and Kashmir.

The country's largest paramilitary force put out a tweet from its official handle saying, "We will not forget, we will not forgive."

"We salute our martyrs of Pulwama attack and stand with the families of our martyr brothers. This heinous attack will be avenged," it said in the social media post.

The force said that "in memory of the martyrs of the terrorist attack", all formations of the Central Reserve Police Force observed two minutes of silence and the force flag will fly half-mast on Friday.

The over 3-lakh personnel strong paramilitary force is deployed as the lead combat unit against terrorism and insurgency in the Kashmir Valley and has deployed about 60,000 personnel (as part of 60 battalions) in the internal security grid of the state.

CRPF personnel hold candles and pay tribute to their colleagues in Hyderabad on Friday.

Tea exporters ready to stop exports to Pak

AGENCIES / Kolkata

India can stop exporting tea to Pakistan in the wake of escalating tensions between the two neighbours following the Pulwama terror attack in Jammu and Kashmir that claimed the lives of 45 paramilitary troopers, said the exporters body, which is ready to back the Centre in case of any retaliatory measures, even at the cost of incurring losses.

Asked whether the Indian Tea Exporters' Association (ITEA) was ready to stop shipments across the border to Pakistan if the govt shuts the door on bilateral trade, ITEA chairman Anshuman Kanoria asserted: "Of course, we are ready. The nation and the security of our forces and fellow countrymen comes first and commerce is secondary."

Attack matter of grave concern: Pak

AGENCIES
Islamabad

Pakistan has condemned the terrorist attack in Jammu and Kashmir's Pulwama district and said it is a matter of grave concern even as it rejected India pointing out Islamabad's link to the incident without investigations.

Pakistan's Foreign Office, after keeping quiet for hours, issued a statement after midnight.

The attack in Pulwama in Jammu and Kashmir "is a matter of grave concern," it said.

"We have always condemned heightened acts of violence in the Valley," the FO said. Pakistan also rejected that it was in any way involved in the attack.

We strongly reject any insinuation by elements in the Indian government and media circles that seek to link the attack to the State of Pakistan without investigations — PAKISTAN FOREIGN OFFICE

"We strongly reject any insinuation by elements in the Indian government and media circles that seek to link the attack to the State of Pakistan without investigations," the FO added.

India on Thursday slammed Pakistan over the Pulwama terror attack carried out by Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM) and asked the neighbouring country to stop supporting terrorists and dismantle terror infrastructure operating from its soil.

Rajnath shoulders a coffin

AGENCIES / Srinagar

Home Minister Rajnath Singh on Friday helped carry the coffin of a slain CRPF jawan after he laid a wreath on the mortal remains of the troops, who were killed in the terror attack, officials said.

Shortly after arriving from Delhi, the home minister attended a solemn function here where the remains of 40 CRPF personnel were kept in coffins, draped with tricolour. Singh helped carry the coffin of a slain CRPF jawan before it was flown out of Jammu and Kashmir in a special aircraft, an official present at the function said.

The home minister, Governor Satya Pal Malik, Home Secretary Rajiv Gauba,

CRPF Director General R R Bhatnagar, Jammu and Kashmir DGP Dilbagh Singh besides others attended the wreath laying ceremony. Singh also held a meeting

BJP cancels all political programmes, for now

AGENCIES / New Delhi

The BJP on Friday said the party has cancelled its political programmes in solidarity with the 45 CRPF troopers killed in a terror attack in Jammu and Kashmir.

The remarks came soon after Prime Minister Narendra Modi flagged off the Vande Bharat Express, the country's first engine-less train which would travel from New Delhi to Varanasi.

Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) spokesperson Sambit Patra said all political programmes, including rallies of the Prime Minister and BJP President Amit Shah, have been cancelled as "the party is standing with the martyrs".

The Prime Minister was to start election campaigning in Madhya Pradesh on Friday. "We want to send out a message. We want to make it clear that while all political programmes have been cancelled as we stand by the nation, but the development works of the country would continue with even more speed," Patra told the media. Patra added that India would avenge the attack when the time was right.

Protests erupt across country

AGENCIES
New Delhi

Massive protests and candlelight marches were held on Friday in different parts of the country against the Pulwama terror attack.

Emotions ran high as protesters converged at India Gate and Jantar Mantar in national capital to express solidarity with the families of the martyrs. In UP, demonstrations were held in Bareilly, Azamgarh, Mau, Meerut, Kanpur, Allahabad, Varanasi and Shahjahanpur, reports reaching here said.

In Gorakhpur, Samajwadi party workers burnt a Pakistani flag and an effigy of Prime Minister Imran Khan and raised slogans against the neighbouring country.

In Bihar, which lost Sanjay Kumar Sinha and Ratan Kumar Thakur in the attack, hundreds of protesters, including students gathered at the Kargil Chowk in state capital Patna demanding firm action those responsible for the attack.

Protests were held in Assam by members of Sadou Assam Goria Moriya Yuva Chatra Parishad, a minority students' organisation, All Bodo Minority Students Union, ABVP, Krishak Shramik Unayan Parishad and Hindu Jagran Manch.

The terror attack also triggered angry protests at several places in Punjab, which lost four jawans, and Haryana. Schoolchildren also took out marches in some areas. "How many sacrifices will our soldiers have to make? This needs to stop," said Jagtar Singh, who was part of one such march in Kurukshetra.

Gujarat Congress organised a candle march at Sabarmati Ashram to pay respects to the slain soldiers. The Vishwa Hindu Parishad and Bajrang Dal also held protests in different parts of the states this evening.

"I want to tell terrorist organisations and their guardians that they have committed a grave mistake. Those behind the attack will be punished for their actions." The Prime Minister also urged the international community to unite to wipe out the scourge of terrorism and isolate those responsible for the menace.

Anger spills, curfew in Jammu

The Unified Headquarters is the apex anti-militancy grid in the state comprising top officials of the Army, central armed forces, local police and state and central intelligence agencies.

60 kg RDX sneaked in small doses to access the highway which had been sanitised hours before for the CRPF convey to pass that way.

WHY NOT AIRLIFT?

Questions are being asked why the troops were not airlifted. Large-scale movement of troops is fraught with risk and enhances its susceptibility to an attack, more so since the convoy has to pass through stretches which are terror infested.

CIVILIAN CURBS

Home Minister Rajnath Singh, who held a review meeting with top officers of the CRPF, Army and the state police, said that civilian movement will henceforth not be allowed on state roads when big military convoys are passing through.

Muslims step out to condemn

"We have announced Rs 50 lakh for the kin of the martyred jawans and the Maharashtra government will take responsibility of their rehabilitation. 125 crore Indians are their family members." Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis said condemning the attack.

Suryawanshi, a lady police sub-inspector of Bhandup police station who had called the victim to record her statement in December, said that they had tried to counsel her.

When the girl returned, she was alone at home, as her sister had gone for work and their father too had gone for a meeting. Police said, the girl hanged from the ceiling fan in her living room, on Thursday, around 5 pm.

Kangana lashes out at peaceniks a cowardly act and I condemn it firmly. Violence is always condemnable and those who did it must be punished." Sidhu was quoted as saying. The comment did not go down well with the netizens who have made #BoycottKapilSharmaShow trend on Twitter.

Metro 1 body not allowing CAG audit...

Since then MMRDA and MMOPPL have been in a legal wrangle over the fare hike and the actual construction cost of Metro 1. The HC had observed in its December 2017 judgment: In the arbitration proceedings, if ultimately it is held that MMRDA was not responsible for the delay and consequent cost overruns, then, the prejudice to public interest, will be irreversible.

An MMOPPL spokesperson said, "We are unaware of FCC's deliberations with MMRDA on this matter. However, we have clearly indicated to MMRDA that statutory audits are being carried out as per the Concession Agreement and the Companies Act and by one of the big four audit firms approved by MMRDA. We, therefore, reiterate that no public interest will be served by the CAG audit."

The Metro 1 corridor is the first project based on the public-private partnership (PPP) model in India. The MMOPPL has a 69 per cent stake, while MMRDA has a 26 per cent stake and the French company Veolia owns 5 per cent.

Hiccups in Grand Alliance formation

FPJ BUREAU New Delhi

A hope of the UPA-III emerging as a national anti-BJP alliance from the dinner hosted by Nationalist Congress Party (NCP) leader Sharad Pawar at his residence here on Wednesday stands shattered with tantrums of various players against each other.

While Bahujan Samaj Party supremo Mayawati clubbing the Congress with the BJP and accusing it of "targeting" the Muslims citing the Congress government in Madhya Pradesh slapping the National Security Act against Muslims for alleged cow slaughter, Trinamul Congress chief and West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee is too upset with the Congress for the way its former Bengal PCC chief Adhir Ranjan Choudhry accused her party of the chit fund scam in the Lok Sabha.

She is also angry with the Congress for its leaders' blunt refusal to include the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) of Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, wondering how a national opposition to the BJP will materialise if the opposition parties are themselves fighting against each other.

When Rahul Gandhi joined the dinner meeting at Pawar's residence that was also attended by Kejriwal, Mamata hoped the ice will be broken between the two parties. Instead, a Congress leader told her that the local factors shall have to be taken into account in each state as she had herself ruled out any truck with the Congress in West Bengal.

Mamata has convened a meeting of all opposition parties in Delhi on February 26 to draw up a common minimum programme (CMP) for the alliance, but a parallel announcement by the Congress to hold its working committee meeting in Ahmedabad on the same day has created confusion.

Sources in Trinamul Congress said Mamata may shift the meeting for CMP to February 27 or 28 to ensure participation of the Congress, but they see prospects of not one alliance but two alliances emerging against the BJP as her consultations with various leaders show that many are not ready to give the leadership to the Congress.

Even before some understanding is reached to put the pre-poll alliance on firm footing, leaders have started flexing muscles on who would be its leader. If the Congress emerges as the largest party in the opposition camp, it will want anointment of Rahul Gandhi, but others are also active.

USE OF 'MARTYR' WORD: HC DECLINES URGENT HEARING

AGENCIES / New Delhi

The Delhi High Court on Friday declined to give an urgent hearing to a plea seeking directions to the media to refer to the deaths of armed forces personnel as martyr or 'shaheed' instead of terming it as a killing. The petition was mentioned in the afternoon before a bench of Chief Justice Rajendra Menon and Justice C Hari Shankar by a lawyer, who is also the petitioner, seeking that it be heard on Friday itself. The bench declined to list it for hearing during the day and chastised the lawyer, Abhishek Choudhary, for insisting that the matter be listed on Friday, saying "it is already 2.30 pm and you want us to burden a judge to hear it when there is no urgency in the matter." "This is not a plea seeking bail. Someone's liberty is not at stake. Not today. It will be listed on Monday in normal course," the court said.

BOLSTER COUNTER-TERRORISM COOPERATION, COORDINATION BETWEEN US & INDIA: WHITE HOUSE

AGENCIES
Washington

In a stern message to Pakistan, the White House has asked Islamabad to "immediately end" its "support" to all terror groups and not to provide "safe haven" to them, as the US condemned the brutal Pulwama terror attack claimed the lives of at least 40 CRPF soldiers.

Pakistan-based Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) has claimed responsibility for the terror attack in Pulwama on Thursday that left as many as 45 CRPF soldiers dead and five others critically wounded.

"The United States calls on Pakistan to end immediately the support and safe haven provided to all terrorist groups operating on its soil, whose only goal is to sow chaos, violence, and terror in the region," White House Press Secretary Sarah Sanders said in a late night statement on Thursday.

White House Press Secretary Sarah Sanders issued the statement late on Thursday night.

"This attack only strengthens our resolve to bolster counterterrorism cooperation and coordination between the United States and India," she said in a strongly worded statement issued by the White House.

Sanders said the US condemns in the strongest terms the heinous terrorist attack in Pulwama by a Pakistan-based terrorist group.

"We express our deep condolences to the victims' families, the Indian government, and the Indian people for the loss of life in this brutal attack," said the Press Secretary of President Trump.

Earlier, the US State Department said in a statement it was "resolutely committed" to working with the Indian government to combat terrorism in all its forms.

"The US condemns in the strongest terms the terrorist attack today on an Indian Central Reserve Police Force convoy in Jammu and Kashmir," State Department Deputy Spokesperson Robert Palladino said.

istan-based terrorist group Jaish-e-Mohammad has claimed responsibility for this heinous act. We call on all countries to uphold their responsibilities pursuant to UN Security Council resolutions to deny safe haven and support for terrorists," Palladino said.

Several US lawmakers also expressed solidarity with India in the wake of a dastardly terror attack and said the two countries stand united in condemning and defeating terror.

Cutting across party lines, over 50 Congressmen and Senators took to social media to express their solidarity with the people of India and called for strict action against the JeM terror outfit and its state sponsors.

"I strongly condemn the terror attack in Kashmir. The US stands with our friends in India, and I send heartfelt condolences to the families that lost loved ones," top Democratic Senator Chuck Schumer tweeted.

Democratic Senator Robert Menendez said he was outraged by the terror attack, "one of the deadliest in the region since 1989".

China hints at blocking India's bid to declare Azhar as global terrorist

Beijing

China on Friday indicated it would continue to block India's bid to declare Masood Azhar as an international terrorist whose outfit JeM has claimed to plot the worst-ever attack in Jammu and Kashmir that killed 45 CRPF troops.

China has repeatedly blocked India's bid to ban Azhar at the UN, citing lack of evidence against the man who was the mastermind behind the 26/11 Mumbai terror attack and has plotted dastardly attacks on Indian Army camps.

To India's renewed appeal to the international community, including China, to designate Azhar as an international terrorist in the aftermath of Thursday's attack, Beijing indicated it won't budge from its position.

"We are deeply shocked by this attack. We offer our condolences and sympathies to the injured and families of the bereaved. We firmly oppose and strongly condemn all forms of terrorism," Foreign Ministry spokesperson Geng Shuang said here.

"We hope all relevant regional countries will cooperate to cope with the threat of terrorism and jointly uphold regional peace and stability."

Saudi Arabia backs India's fight against terrorism, extremism

AGENCIES
Riyadh

Saudi Arabia on Friday said it stood with India's fight against terrorism and extremism and denounced as "cowardly" the suicide attack carried out by Pakistan-based Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) terror group in Jammu and Kashmir that killed at least 45 CRPF soldiers.

The strong condemnation came days ahead of Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud's state visit to India next week for talks with the top Indian leadership.

Strongly condemning the terror attack, the Saudi Foreign Ministry said Riyadh denounced the explosion that targeted a military convoy that killed a number of people and injured many others.

The official Saudi Press Agency, quoting a Foreign Ministry source, stressed the Kingdom rejects these "cowardly terrorist acts" and the Gulf Kingdom stood with the "friendly Republic of India against terrorism and extremism."

Riyadh also offered condolences to the families of the victims, the Indian government and the people and wished a speedy recovery to the injured.

Crown Prince, who is arriving in Islamabad on Saturday for talks with the Pakistani leadership, will travel to New Delhi on Tuesday for a two-day visit at the invitation of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"The issues that could come up for discussions are investments, defence and security, including counterterrorism, and renewable energy," Ministry of External Affairs Spokesperson Raveesh Kumar said on Thursday in New Delhi.

Border wall: Trump declares emergency

AGENCIES / Washington

Battling with one branch of government and opening a new confrontation with another, US President Donald Trump announced on Friday he was declaring a national emergency to fulfil his pledge to construct a wall along the US-Mexico border.

Bypassing Congress, which approved far less money for his proposed wall than he had sought, Trump said he would use executive action to siphon billions of dollars from federal military construction and counterdrug efforts for the wall, aides said.

The move is already drawing bipartisan criticism on Capitol Hill and expected to face rounds of legal challenges. Trump made the announcement from the Rose Garden, as he claimed illegal immigration was "an invasion of our country".

Trump's move followed a rare show of bipartisanship when lawmakers voted on Thursday to fund large swathes of the government and avoid a repeat of this winter's debilitating five-week government shutdown.

The money in the bill for border barriers, $1.4 billion, is far below the $5.7 billion Trump insisted he needed and would finance a quarter of the over 322 kms he wanted this year. To bridge the gap, Trump announced he will be spending $8 billion on border barriers, combining the money approved by Congress with funding he plans to repurpose through executive actions, including the national emergency.

China closes Mt Everest base camp to combat garbage issue

AGENCIES
Beijing

China has banned the entry of visitors who don't have climbing permits into the core zone of the Mount Everest National Nature reserve in Tibet to better conserve the environment of the world's highest mountain.

But for travellers, who have a climbing permit, the mountaineering activities will not be affected, according to the reserve, which was set up in 1988.

Covering an area of around 33,800 square km, including a 10,312-square km core zone, the reserve is home to one of the world's most vulnerable ecosystems.

Recently, a report went viral online claiming the Qo-molangma base camp was "permanently closed due to heavy pollution."

In Tibet, the 8,848-metre high Mount Everest is called as Mount Qomolangma. The deputy director with the reserve's administration, Kelsang said ordinary tourists are banned from areas above Rongpo Monastery, around 5,000 metres above sea level.

A new tent camp will be set up nearly two-km away from the original one, the state-run Xinhua news reported.

Though ordinary visitors can't go beyond the monastery, it won't affect them from appreciating the mountain.

Travellers who have a climbing permit can go to the base camp at an altitude of 5,200 metres, and mountaineering activities have been approved by the regional forestry department.

Spain to hold snap election on April 28

AGENCIES / Madrid

Spain's Prime Minister Pedro Sanchez on Friday called a snap general election on April 28.

Sanchez, 46, of the Socialist Party (PSOE), said he was asking for Parliament to be dissolved and for the polls to be held a month before regional elections in the country.

"I have proposed the dissolution of Parliament and call for elections on April 28," Sánchez said in a nationally televised press conference from his official residence Moncloa Palace.

The announcement came two days after his Socialist government suffered a defeat in Parliament after failing to get its 2019 budget passed, CNN reported.

UK: Brexit defeat in parliament 'a hiccup'

AGENCIES / London

The British government on Friday dismissed as a "hiccup" its latest parliamentary defeat over Brexit, saying it would keep trying to renegotiate its EU divorce deal just six weeks before exit day.

But senior minister Andrea Leadsom, the leader of the House of Commons, conceded that the setback might affect the ongoing talks with the European Union.

"Yesterday was more of a hiccup than the disaster," she told BBC radio.

She added: "The one problem with last night's vote is that it allows the EU to continue with this pretence that they don't know what we want. And they do know what we want."

MPs on Thursday night rejected by 303 votes to 258 a motion expressing support for Prime Minister Theresa May as she seeks changes to the Irish "backstop" in her Brexit deal.

Slovenia MP resigns for stealing sandwich

LJUBLJANA: A Slovenian lawmaker resigned for stealing a sandwich from a supermarket because he was annoyed about being ignored by staff.

Darij Krajcic, a member of parliament for the Marjan Sarec List (LMS) party - the senior partner in the ruling coalition - said he walked off without paying because three supermarket employees had "treated (him) like air" and continued chatting. "I must have stood some three minutes by the counter," he told private POP TV. Krajcic insisted that he returned shortly afterwards to pay for the sandwich. But he apologised and resigned from parliament.

War kills over 100,000 babies a year: Save the Children

MUNICH: At least 100,000 babies die every year because of armed conflict and its impact, from hunger to denial of aid, Save the Children International said on Friday.

In the 10 worst-hit countries, a conservative estimate of 550,000 infants died as a result of fighting between 2013 and 2017.

They succumbed to war and its effects, among them hunger, damage to hospitals and infrastructure, a lack of access to health care and sanitation and the denial of aid.

"Almost one in five children are living in areas impacted by conflict - more than at any time in the past two decades," said the charity's CEO Helle Thorning-Schmidt in a statement.

"The number of children being killed or maimed has more than tripled, and we are seeing an alarming increase in the use of aid as a weapon of war," she said on releasing the report at the Munich Security Conference.

Save the Children said a study it had commissioned from the Peace Research Institute Oslo had found that 420 million children were living in conflict-affected areas in 2017.

This represents 18 percent of all children worldwide and was up by 30 million from the previous year. The worst-hit countries were Afghanistan, Central African Republic, Democratic Republic of Congo, Iraq, Mali, Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, Syria and Yemen.

Japan to recognise indigenous Ainu people for first time

TOKYO: Japan's government introduced a bill Friday to recognise the country's ethnic Ainu minority as an "indigenous" people for the first time, after decades of discrimination against the group.

The Ainu people - many of whom live in northern Hokkaido - have long suffered the effects of a policy of forced assimilation, and while discrimination has receded gradually, income and education gaps with the rest of Japan persist.

"It is important to protect the honour and dignity of the Ainu people and to hand those down to the next generation to realise a vibrant society with diverse values," top government spokesman Yoshihide Suga told reporters. "Today we made a cabinet decision on a bill to proceed with policies to preserve the Ainu people's pride." The bill is the first to recognise the Ainu as "indigenous people" and calls for the government to make "forward-looking policies", including measures to support communities and boost local economies and tourism.

The Ainu have long suffered oppression and exploitation, and the modern Japanese government in the late 19th century banned them from practising their customs and using their language.

The Senate voted 54-45 for Barr's nomination. The veteran lawyer is expected to take oath before the end of this week. The dissident journalist and Washington Post contributor was dismembered after being killed on October 2 at the Saudi consulate in Istanbul but his remains have not yet been found. CCTV images leaked previously showed a Saudi agent leaving the consulate after the murder wearing Khushoggi's clothes, who was identified as a "body double".

Security tight for Bangladesh 'mini-Haji'

TONGI: Security was tight Friday in Bangladesh as hundreds of thousands of people gathered for a Muslim gathering rivaling the Haji in Mecca for size.

The Biswa Ijtema, or the World Congregation, draws up to three million Muslims from Bangladesh and abroad on the banks of the river Turag at the factory town of Tongi. The annual gathering, which takes place some 25 kilometres north of Dhaka, was launched by the Tablig Jamaat group in 1964. Tension has been running high ahead of this year's four-day event after violent clashes between two Bangladeshi rival factions left one person dead and dozens injured in December. The congregation, which is normally held in January, was postponed following the violence, prompting Bangladesh authorities to hold several rounds of meetings with rival factions to broker peace.

Police would deploy hundreds of officers including many in plainclothes at the congregation ground to prevent any repeat of clashes. —Agencies

Give Pak-based terror a bloody nose

Enough is enough! The dastardly suicide terror attack on a CRPF convoy by a Pakistani terror outfit Jaish-e-Mohammed which has claimed responsibility for it, ramming an explosives-laden SUV into a convoy of heavily-guarded vehicles, deserves the strongest Indian deterrent action. The Pakistan government, propped up by military support, must know that India is fully capable of giving it a bloody nose. The surrender of over 93,000 Pakistani troops to the Indian army to free the then nascent state of Bangladesh from Pakistan control in 1971 can hardly be forgotten. It is puerile for Pakistan to hold out the threat of nuclear attack. If Islamabad indulges in any nuclear misadventure it would be obliterated. The Narendra Modi government's credentials as being different from its predecessor Congress government which was in all manner of means weak-kneed is indeed on severe test. It would be foolhardy for India to buckle under pressure of being confronted by a nuclear-armed Pakistan.

If it is established beyond doubt that the Pulwama terror attack was Pakistan's handiwork as have been several earlier terror strikes, India must act decisively to target the recalcitrant neighbour's terror machine and destroy terror training camps including those of Jaish. There are, indeed, no two ways about it. The Pakistanis have stretched India's patience to the limit and must be prepared for the strongest offensive. This must be accompanied by a diplomatic offensive the like of which has not been seen before. That India has withdrawn the most-favoured-nation status to Pakistan in trade can only be a first step. Much more needs to be done to teach the Pakistanis a lesson that they would never forget.

That the initial count of casualties on the CRPF side is a whopping 44 and this could go up, and that this is the highest in any terror attack since Pakistan-sponsored terror first began in Kashmir nearly three decades ago, is testimony to the way Jaish and similar outfits have been emboldened by the complicity of successive Pakistani regimes. Equally outrageous has been the Chinese stand at the United Nations where that country has blocked all efforts to declare JeM's chief, Masood Azhar, as an international terrorist. The Chinese indeed reiterated soon after the Pulwama attack that Masood was not a terrorist. This cannot go on. It is in the interests of the world at large to support India whole hog in tracking down Pakistan's terror factories and bringing some sanity into Pakistan's civilian and military establishments. The Chinese have been exposed for their duplicity and must be over-ruled. The US has for long been warning Pakistan to dismantle its terror outfits and infrastructure but the Pakistanis have ignored them. It is high time that Pakistan acts or else it must be labelled a 'terror state.' The Russians too must wake up to Pakistan's threat to international peace and order. It has indeed been proved time and again that Pakistan is the fountainhead of international terror: Just minutes after he carried out the attack, the suicide bomber, Adil Ahmed Dar, was shown in a JeM video that was shot before Dar set out on the savagery where he was seen brandishing rifles, grenades, and magazines and speaking about the 'atrocities' faced by the Muslims of Kashmir. It is difficult to believe that the Pakistan establishment did not know of the then impending suicide attack by the bomber. The Opposition in India led by the Congress has made it a habit to flay everything that the Modi government does. It is important that the country stands as one with the government on terrorism and on telltale complicity of the Pakistani establishment. This is not the time for a soft approach towards perpetrators of terror. When it comes to an external enemy, all political parties must close ranks.

The Pulwama terror attack was doubtlessly a failure of intelligence. It fails one how the loading of the SUV with 250 kilograms of explosives went undetected. Those guilty of hiding the truth must be duly punished. Only a multi-pronged approach can prevent such incidents in future not the least of which must be strong, deterrent action against the perpetrators of terror based in Pakistan. The message must go out loud and clear that India cannot be messed around with.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Take revenge

The dastardly and cowardly act of terrorists on CRPF men in Pulwama is highly condemnable and despicable. The revenge of our men should be taken ten times more. It is the need of the hour to give a befitting reply. This time we need something more than a surgical strike and a stricter dose that Pakistan will never ever forget.
— Parth Sahu

Time of grief

The neighbouring country Pakistan which is widely infamous for providing shelter to these terrorist organisations and helping them in operating regularly must be condemned harshly for such a nefarious conduct. It is now the time to reciprocate these ghastly attacks and give a knee-jerk to these terrorist organisations which disrupts the peace of our nation continuously with their unethical deeds. The entire nation mourns the incalculable loss of those brave martyrs and stands shoulder to shoulder with their families in their time of grief.

— Tushar Anand

Valid questions

Kashmir is now under Central rule and the Governor has said that Pulwama attack was partly the result of an intelligence failure, as security forces could not detect the loading and movement of the explosive-laden Scorpio, shockingly though government knew about fideyean Adil Ahmad Dar but could not trace him. Is the IB sleeping? What is RAW doing? Ajit Doval's job was to keep India safe, but he is interested in negotiating the Rafale Deal, playing the CBI officers against one another, chasing the opposition with the ED and IT. Why Mr Modi has not been asked him to go?

One hopes not, but it could be the shape of things to come. The redeeming feature is that Muslims are not alone in objecting to the Madhya Pradesh government invoking the National Security Act to book three men for cow slaughter. Several Hindus, apparently even including a Bharatiya Janata Party member, feel the action was inappropriate. Otherwise, there might have been some danger of the absurdity of 172 million Muslims pitted against 1.2 billion Hindus over 191 million cattle.

That sounds as farcical as a Congress government under the pragmatic and secular Kamal Nath seemingly taking a stand that would have been more suitable for his BJP predecessor, Shivraj Singh Chouhan, or the same party's chief minister of Uttar Pradesh, Adityanath. Mr Nath has tried to make amends since then, declaring after a high-level meeting on the Cow Shelter Bill that his government would "not spare anybody involved in mob lynching or instigating violence in the name of cow protection." Such a public commitment is necessary in light of several reported incidents of cow vigilantes attacking trucks transporting cattle. No matter what their motive, these vigilantes must be put down with a firm hand to save the peace from the peril of communal polarisation.

Whether a state government can effectively stave off that danger is a moot point, given the Centre's bias and its encouragement of the popular mood at the lowest level. The roughs and toughs recruited as cow vigilantes must be drawn from the dregs of society. The purpose of their organized effort is not to protect the sacred cow but to corner and browbeat Muslims. The names of the three accused — Shakeel, Nadeem and Azam — on whom the NSA has been slapped are a giveaway. They are charged with killing a cow at Khandwa, and, predictably, the state unit of the BJP welcomed the move. But the Bhopal Central MLA, Arif Masood — another telltale name — says that the Khandwa district collector, Vishesh Garhpale (again, the name is revealing), who invoked the NSA, did not give the three accused a chance to explain their side of the story. In any case, the NSA, which sanctions 12 months' custody for anyone suspected of endangering national security, is hardly the right measure when a specific law to deal with cow-related offences already exists.

The cow may be sacred to Hindus but its treatment compares with the treatment India metes out to children who are said to be the beloved offspring of Bharat Mata. It was not for nothing that the Supreme Court recently admonished the Bihar government for providing incomplete details about the status of children's shelter homes in the state and ordered the transfer of the Muzaffarpur shelter home sexual assault case from Patna to Delhi. The scandal involves more than 30 girls, some as young as seven, who were drugged and raped over a prolonged period. Among the accused are the shelter home's politically-connected owner and his staff. Animals are similarly ill-treated. In Chhattisgarh, 200 cows reportedly starved to death in August 2017 in a shelter run by a BJP leader. In December that year, 58 cows died in 28 days at a shelter in Madhya Pradesh. Some 500 cows starved to death in 2017 at a cattle shelter run by the

Cry, my beloved country

First Person

Alka Jain

The dastardly attack on CRPF personnel in Pulwama on February 14 has caused the entire country to go into robotic mode. The response from media, politicians and civilians is mechanical and repetitive rhetoric. As I sat glued to the television and watched the gory story from Kashmir, a shiver ran down my spine. The entire event seemed copy-pasted! As if a printer has been set by default to print endless copies of the same blood-soaked sheet! The condemnation, outrage, outbursts and defence evoked a sense of déjà vu. Had I not been conscious of date and time, I would have taken it for a replay of a past misdeed on the screen.

I failed miserably once again — failed to comprehend that 'something' which must have been amiss in the life of the young culprit, the face of this latest perpetrator of terror: All terrorists look the same to me! Behind their different facades is one universal persona. I wish I could peek into his childhood and recognise the strain of destructive rebellion and save the rest of the country's youth from being lured into the trap. It is strange that while the country's heart bleeds for the brave soldiers meeting such a devastating, untimely death, I also mourn the ruination of thousands of young hearts for a vague cause.

Feeling hopeless and distressed at the sight of the blood-bathed bodies of our soldiers, I decided to switch off the television and go for a walk. My fifty-five inch television screen had become a nuisance today. The gigantic videos of the incident suffused my entire room and my being, and out of sheer suffocation, I decided to go out for a breather.

Again the same monotonous comments, condemnation and frenzy: "Wait and see. This time action will be taken. This time the government has to act." "But what about previous acts?" I ask, "We will just talk for a few days and offer shradhanjali and finish!" Friends retort, "This time it is different. More casualties! Action will be taken!" Indians are good mathematicians after all. The greater the casualty, the higher the impact. And action. Little storms do Rajasthan government when they were trapped in a neck-deep slurry of dung and fodder. The shelter's 266 contract workers were all on strike at the time. Between January and July 2018, 8,000 cows died of disease and injuries in Rajasthan's Hingonia gaushala.

Many such reported abuses suggest that while most Hindus may shrink from consuming beef or veal, their veneration for the animal is only another piece of hypocrisy like the myth that Indians are committed to ahimsa. The cattle problem is becoming unmanageable while politicians posture. According to a 2017 report, the number of milk-producing exotic or cross-bred cattle in Uttar Pradesh alone doubled from around 6.5 lakh in 2012-13 to 13.03 lakh in 2016-17. This includes only cows capable of rearing calves and does not account for old and young cows, or bulls of all ages that would have been counted in the livestock census. With increasing mechanisation of agriculture, bulls are no longer economically productive and so are the first to be abandoned, adding to the more than 5 million stray cattle on the loose.

Even assuming the number of such animals has not increased since 2012, only 1,821 shelters across India are registered with the Animal Welfare Board, although the Federation of Indian Animal Protection Organisations claims an estimated 5,000 exist. Most shelters are poorly run and are often lethal to cattle. The Federation says they are unhygienic, have no access to veterinary care, little government funding, and no trained staff. With no markets for slaughter, no exports and no shelters, cattle roam free or die slowly from consuming plastic. Goa, which has not banned cow slaughter, launched a Stray Cattle Management Scheme in 2013 under the BJP's Manohar Parrikar. But by all accounts, the project is desperately short of funds. That also applies to the cattle management guidelines for dairies that Mr Adityanath's government in UP, as well as six other state governments, issued in November 2017. People wonder where Mr Adityanath will find the more than Rs 600 crore he has promised for cattle protection and welfare and restoration and building of cattle shelters. For that matter, can the Centre afford the Rs 750 crores Mr Piyush Goyal's budget promised the Rashtriya Gokul Mission?

Several states have imposed cesses and levies to pay for the upkeep of cows. In October 2014, Rajasthan became the only state to establish a cow ministry but the first and only cow minister, Otaram Devasi, lost in the 2018 election, despite his promise to establish a 220-hectare cattle sanctuary in Bikaner district which would be home to 10,000 cattle and would welcome tourists. Meanwhile, farmers complain it costs Rs 20,000 per bigha to fence land to keep out stray cattle. As has been widely reported, some farmers lock up unwanted cattle in empty school buildings. It's a strange way of treating creatures that are supposedly holy and worshipped.

While the controversy over invoking the NSA for alleged cow slaughter rages, another suspicion rears its head. It is not ruled out that like Rahul Gandhi's newly-discovered penchant for temple-hopping, Mr Nath, too, may be trying to steal some of the BJP's thunder by indulging in a form of soft Hindutva that might appeal to a certain kind of voter. His announcement of a "cow cess" on luxury cars to pay for gaushalas in every village could be a politically-inspired genuflection to majority sentiment. That would be the cruelest joke of all.

not bother us, we are accustomed to tsunamis.

While we kept our own little intellectual talk on, I was reminded of the onscreen debate that I had switched off and felt like a bonsai version of the news-readers and debaters. Was there a way to escape?

Amidst the cacophony in my mind, I realised that the families of the dead warriors must have gone mute. Their pain, my words fail to measure. Those who have lost their sleep tonight and for an eternity of nights to follow. The rest all will go to sleep on a full stomach today. The shattering cries of the martyrs' children will not be our wake-up call tomorrow; we have our own caller tunes. But for them, no music can ever sound the same.

Should we tell the martyrs' families to face the disaster with equanimity? Which religion in the world has the power to heal their gaping wounds? It is deplorable that ancient philosophies have become modern-day religions. I wish we had let them be just that — philosophies — our guides and guardians. Philosophy, the mantra of life has disappeared and that is why we do not bother about the living beings. A secular country thrives on a philosophy that gives it a working ideology. A philosophy that undertakes to find meaning in life, not make it meaningless. A philosophy that tries to understand the fundamentals of human existence and experience.

But here we stand, threatening human existence as never before. Man versus man. No one is concerned about the country's philosophy. All that matters is statistics, majorities, minorities, and so on. Religion, a personal habit or choice of worship, has become the battleground of the world. Sadly, we just have political schools of thought, instead of ideological seats of learning.

Religion has become so big and humanism so insignificant. It has become a deadly tool to rationalise every sort of violence. And even rationalisation has become a variable, with a new value for every new calculation. Without the philosophy of humanism grounded and intricately etched in every single individual of the world, existence will be nothing but a nightmare. What shall I dream about today?
Goodnight, dear country.

The grim case against hydropower on the Ganga

Political Economy

Bharat Jhunjhunwala

The Union Government must be congratulated for taking a decision not to make new hydropower projects on the Ganga River. The issue of four under-construction hydropower projects on the Mandakini and Alaknanda, however, remains unresolved. About Rs 5,000 crores has been spent on these projects. Question is whether the benefits from scrapping the projects at this stage exceed the costs incurred till date.

The Union Government is spending about Rs 20,000 crores in building Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs) on the Ganga. However, scrapping the four hydropower projects can reduce the expenditures on the STPs. One major measure of pollution of the river is the presence of harmful bacteria called coliforms. These are found in thousands of types. Each type of coliform is destroyed by a specific type of beneficial bacteria called coliphage which are also found in thousands of types. A particular type of coliform can be destroyed only by a corresponding type of coliphage. A study by the National Environment Engineering Institute, Nagpur brought out that the coliphages in the Ganga have unique "wide-spectrum" capabilities. One coliphage can destroy many types of coliphages. These beneficial coliphages stick to the sediments of the Ganga and lay dormant until they sense the nearby presence of a coliform which they then destroy. These coliphages give Ganga her self-purifying capabilities. The sediments have to be continuously created for these coliphages to survive. Further, the sediments have copper and microscopic quantities of radioactive thorium which give the water of the Ganga bactericidal qualities. The hydropower projects divert the water of the Ganga into tunnels or still them in reservoirs. That removes the friction between water and stones and prevents the creation of these sediments. That harms the self-purifying capacity of Ganga, and leads to additional expenditures on STPs.

We must protect our biodiversity in the grim scenario of global warming. A number of species of fishes, turtles, snails and worms may die because of global warming. Other species may be able to survive. These surviving species will provide us food and keep our rivers clean in the future. But we do not know which species will die and which will survive. Therefore, we need to protect every species. Many of these species require free flowing water to survive. The famous Mahseer fish of Uttarakhnad migrates upstream to lay eggs. The fishings then flow down with the flowing water until they become big and migrate upstream in the next cycle. This migration is obstructed by the hydropower projects. The famous Snow Trout requires high levels of oxygen to survive. This level of oxygen is only available in flowing water. The scrapping of the under-construction hydropower projects will help these species to survive, conserve our biodiversity and help us survive global warming.

The purpose of economic growth is welfare or happiness of our people. The people of State of Washington in the United States petitioned to the Government that the Elhwa Dam on the Elhwa River was blocking the migration of salmon fishes and preventing them from fishing and kayaking. The Government of Washington commissioned a survey. People of the state were asked how much money they would be willing to pay to remove the Elhwa Dam and restore free flow of the Elhwa River. The survey found that the people were willing to pay much more than the benefits being derived from electricity generation and irrigation from the Elhwa Dam. The Government removed the dam and restored free flow of the river on the basis of this survey. The Indian Institute of Technology, Roorkee has estimated that people of India would draw a benefit of Rs 23,255 crores per year if the Ganga flowed freely. The benefit to the people of India would be Rs 2,325 crores per year if we attribute a mere ten per cent of this value to the four under-construction projects. About Rs 5,000 has been spent on these projects till date. The cost incurred by the country in scrapping these projects at this stage, therefore, would be a onetime payment Rs 5,000 crores while we will get a benefit of Rs 2,325 crores per year. This translates to a return of whopping 46 per cent. That is good business.

The State of Uttarakhand gets 12 per cent free power that is generated by hydropower projects. The State was touted as the future "energy-state" of the country at the time of its creation. This "free" revenue is used by the State for the welfare of its people. Scrapping the projects would deprive the State of this revenue and hit at the welfare of the people. There exists an alternative though. The Ganga has two qualities — physical and psychological. Hydropower projects utilize the physical quality of falling from a higher to lower elevation. The alternative is to utilize her psychological qualities. I once did a survey of pilgrims at Haridwar, Rishikesh and Dev Prayag. Seventy seven per cent of the pilgrim replied they got mental peace from taking a dip in the Ganga, 26 per cent begot health benefits, 14 per cent begot better business, 12 per cent were blessed with a child, and 9 per cent got success in examinations. The establishment of hospitals, universities and software parks on the banks of the Ganga would provide much better success rate in hospital treatments and education. These institutions will generate a large number of high-paid jobs in doctors and teachers. The State will get huge revenues from these activities that will more than compensate for the loss from foregone free power.

Hydropower is on the way out anyways. The cost of electricity from new hydropower projects is about Rs 7-11 per unit against Rs 3-4 per unit from solar power. According to the head of the Central Electricity Authority of Ministry of Power, solar power can be stored and used in the morning and evening when the demand is more at a cost of mere 40 paise per unit. It is for this reason that many hydropower projects are in financial trouble today. The State may still feel shortchanged. The benefits from free flow of the Ganga will accrue to people of the whole country while the State of Uttarakhand would bear the losses. Therefore, the Union Government should pay a "Ganga Bonus" to the State and make up the loss.

Swami Sanand, formerly Professor G D Agarwal of IIT Kanpur, left his mortal body late last year after fasting for 112 days seeking cancellation of these four under-construction projects. Twenty six years old Brahmachari Atmabodhanand from Kerala has been on fast for 110 days at the time of writing seeking the cancellation of the same projects. I think the case for scrapping the project stands.

neatly packaged, diligently sanitised, conspicuously Indianised and smartly inspired version of Eminem's 8 Mile, this Bombaiyya account of a gifted rapper's struggle to get out of the 'Ghetto verse' he is born into, is an exhilarating and totally immersive experience. It may not be as sharply edgy, vituperatively disingenuous or violently obscene as its inspiration, but it has a heart and soul that is incessantly pulsing with an energy and vibe that is hard to look away from.

You may not be a fan of Hip-hop rap but you will certainly take away a lot more from this uniquely individualistic experience than you would from any mainstream Bollywood movie you have seen in the last decade or so.

Rapping up a persuasive appeal

By mainstream Bollywood standards, this is a brave film with an audience drawing heart-throb, Ranveer Singh, playing the central character Murad with all the craft, enthusiasm and energy that he is famed for. The fact that it's a niche story, with non-stereotypical Bollywood music and gritty non-glossy takes, does not take away from the fact that it's a big production and is being marketed in a forceful manner across all media, typical of big-budget mainstream efforts.

Now coming back to the story set principally in Dharavi, among Asia's largest slum colonies - Murad and firecracker Safeena (absolutely delightful Alia Bhatt) are childhood sweethearts. Murad, a final year college student, is looking for an out from his depressing family situation which includes a younger sibling, heart-broken mother (impeccable Amruta Subhash) and a father (Vijay Raaz breaking away from the stereotype he was caught-in of late) who has just taken on a much younger second wife. Safeena, an A grade student is on her way to becoming a Doctor, provided her overbearing mother (the wonderful Sheeba Chaddha) sees it fit to let her continue her education after finding out about her relationship with Murad.

The supporting characters include fellow rapper MC Sher (mesmerising debutant Siddhant Chaturvedi), Uncle (Vijay Maurya), Moeen-a helpful friend (an edgy Vijay Varma), producer of Rap music videos - Sky (Kalki Koechlin), and many real life rappers like Emiway Bantaai, Stony Psycho, Dope

Daddy from Dopedaalicz, Kaambhaari and Brodha V.

The script here gives more weight to the human relationships and uses them to power Murad's development into a rapper of repute. It also plays safe by keeping its lead character away from major criminality - and in a circumspect manner makes sure the audience continues to empathise with his plight. The rap culture in India hasn't really taken off in a big way so this film by way of its rap analogies hopes to create a buzz for that music form that is much closer to poetry than song.

The lyrics (much of it by Javed Akhtar) gain rhythm from contentious contemporary issues that have disrupted life and well-being in the past few years and give voice to current angst that plague the youth of today. This is by far Zoya's most accomplished directorial effort and she has managed to get some of the best ever performances from her assorted cast of veterans and freshers.

While Cinematography by Jay Oza is completely enveloping, a little more sharpness in the edits by Nitin Baid would have made this film a much more powerful experience. The scene in the cop station after Safeena breaks a bottle on Sky's head wasn't necessary and the one where Ranveer suddenly marches into Moeen's den and warns him about using children to package and sell drugs, appears forced.

The movie is mainly about human relations and interpersonal dynamics connected to individual hopes and aspirations. And Zoya Akhtar balances those elements with that of rapper's development into a celebrated artist with a wide following. She makes you laugh, cry and applaud while stringing together wondrous moments of intimate acuity.

Gully Boy is as much her triumph as it is a brilliant representation of Bollywood's hitherto untapped riches!

RONITA TORCATO

According to sociologists from America's Bowling Green State University, the divorce rate for Americans over the age of 50 has doubled. Ever since former US VEEP Al Gore's wife Tipper left him after 40 years of marriage and four kids, I have wondered what it is that drives two people apart after a long history of raising kids, illness, good times. The Gores were high school sweethearts.

The Wife is based on the thought-provoking novel of the same name by Meg Wolitzer. Intelligently adapted for the screen, beautifully directed and stunningly acted, the film touches on gender inequality, creativity, identity, conscience and marital conflict. Nothing fictional about that!

Director Runje employs a series of meditative flashbacks to explore the relationship between the long-suffering titular character and her conceited, but undeniably charming husband.

When it begins, with a late-night telephone call from Stockholm announcing Joe Castleman's (Jonathan Pryce) selection for the Nobel Lit Prize, the viewer believes this is one happy couple.

The wife, Joan (Glenn Close) is well, wifely; solicitous and helpful, in the best traditions of Scripture. And the Lord God created a helpmate for the man from his rib... Having sacrificed her own dreams, she fusses over him: his medication, his meals, his wearing apparel. For Joan, it is not just Joe's philandering ways but the ease with which he takes credit that rightfully should go to her. And I do not mean the glib remarks he makes at the formal ceremony. "I love everything to my wife..."

Glibness comes easily to men with a sense of entitlement. Consider this statement: "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." Joan has suffered in silence, but will not, cannot take it any more. At the ceremonial banquet in response to a query ("who are you?") from a fellow guest, she quips, "I am the king-maker."

And yet, and yet, she will not spill a dark secret to the world even as David and wannabe biographer Nathaniel Bone (Christian Slater) seem to be privy to it. The Wife is proof, if proof were needed, that behind every successful man, is a woman.

This biopic about the first Indian woman to study medicine and become a doctor at an age (1800s) where such achievements by Indian women were rather against the grain, is a rather unaffectioning trip down memory lane. Anandi was married at a very young age and her much older husband Gopal (Lalit Prabhakar) - for whom it was a second marriage, was a trailblazing warrior for gender equality. As the narrative depicts, it was Gopal's coercion (both covert and overt) that got Anandi to achieve something that no other Indian woman had achieved and at such a very young age.

Simplistic biopic of a pioneering woman

The narrative begins in 1857 when Anandi, a child still, is being married off to a widower, postmaster Gopal

Joshi, who already has a son from a previous marriage. His one condition for the marriage is that Anandi promises to continue her education after marriage. Of course, it's not an easy vow to keep as there are other pressures working against such a progressive mindset. The script by Karan Siddhant Sharma, with dialogues by Irawati Karnik aid Sameer Vidwans' workmanlike narrative as it takes us through her grind - faithfully making us privy to the many challenges of her young life.

But the most intriguing aspect of this story is the brand of tough love that Gopal Rao displays in his obsession to make his young wife the stirring example of achievement that broke the backbone of Brahmanical tradition. The relationship between the husband and wife may not be an entirely pleasant sight given the almost despotic demands that Anandi has to live up to, but there is a strong surge of affection ameliorating the brutal aspects of their connection.

The camerawork and period accoutrements are pretty much believable here. The editing though could have been much sharper as the 134 min runtime gets a little too unwieldy.

The music is a lot ingratiating and gets a little too overbearing in its efforts to yield emotion. Whatever the merits or demerits of this creation it's heartening to see that Marathi cinema, at least, is focussing its might on telling stories from India's unique past!

GUIDING LIGHT

Happiness is the Feeling of Joy and Contentment

Happiness is the feeling of joy and contentment. It is also associated with freedom from negative thoughts like fear, resentment, self-pity and low self-esteem.

Many people find bliss and joy elusive. They see others experiencing bliss and joy but somehow they are not able to identify these feelings within themselves.

If you are one of them, realize that feeling glad and cheerful is, in reality, a choice. You can choose to feel the way you wish to. So you can choose to feel fortunate anytime that you wish.

Your state of mind and thoughts affect the way in which you interpret and react to what is happening in your external world.

You can consciously draw out positive and pleasant memories and recreate and relive events that bring you joy. This will help you to handle your disappointment, failures and your misfortunes in your life.

When you are able to handle and manage your thoughts, you will have control over your emotions.

Try to adjust your expectations. Make sure that you set realistic standards. If you are preoccupied with the thought of how a certain thing has to happen or how a person has to behave to make you feel positive you will most likely feel frustrated with the outcome. This is because you are allowing others and circumstances to dictate how and when you can experience a state of joy.

Most people are more concerned about themselves than trying to please you or bolster your ego. Assume that people have positive intentions and do not mean to damage your ego and esteem.

Interpret loss and unfortunate events as an experience that will provide lessons and make you stronger. Look out for the good in people. Focus on the moments that you enjoy and contribute to your sense of wellbeing. Find pleasure in all your activities and chores. Get involved in everything and find enjoyment in your activities and chores no matter how mundane they are. Make sure to set personal and definite goals that will give you more life, growth, accomplishment and a sense of purpose.

Adopt the feeling of gratitude. Be grateful for being alive and well. Appreciate and feel blessed with your relationships and families. Show and express your appreciation with a smile, kind words and gestures. Appreciation and gratitude brings joy, contentment and happiness.

What is Fossil Water?

IT is freshwater that was created millions of years ago. Also called paleowater, it is trapped in underground aquifers. There are 37 major aquifers containing fossil water all over the world. After petroleum, it is the most precious non-renewable fossil resource.

The biggest of these are the Ogallala aquifer in the Great Plains of the US, the Nubian Sandstone aquifer in North Africa, the North China Plain aquifer, the Arabian aquifer system that supplies Saudi Arabia and Yemen and the Indus Basin aquifer that sustains India and Pakistan.

The Ogallala aquifer is spread over an area of 450,000 sq. km under eight Midwest states and stores around 3600 million cubic metres of water. Since the climate in the region is arid, the aquifer has been mined faster than it can be renewed.

TRUE OR FALSE?

A certain disorder compels the afflicted persons to repeatedly pull the hair on their head.

True. Trichotillomania is a compulsive disorder characterized by repetitive hair pulling, that can ultimately result in hair loss and baldness. N-acetylcysteine, a simple supplement, is effective in the treatment of this strange disorder.

Likewise, for many countries located in water-scarce regions, it is the only available source of freshwater. For example, Libya is habitable because of ancient aquifers discovered under the Sahara desert during the 1950s when prospecting for oil.

Sometimes, fossil water is unsafe for drinking, because over time, the sandstone underlying such aquifers naturally leaches radioactive contaminants into the water.

King of family films...

Sooraj Barjatya was told not to make family dramas as they wouldn't work

Filmmaker Sooraj Barjatya, known for making blockbuster films like

Hum Aap Ke Hai Koun! and Hum Saath Saath Hai, says many people have asked him to not make family dramas as they do not have an audience.

The director, who has collaborated with superstar Salman Khan for most of his films, believes as a storyteller one must follow their heart and not go by trends. "I've been told many times to not make family dramas as they won't work. But then I also have more number of people who say, 'no, make the film you want to.' This is my voice. A filmmaker cannot make films as per the trends," Barjatya said.

"I made Main Prem Ki Deewani Hu as per trend and that failed. I felt so bad, it had Hrithik, Abhishek, Kareena, but as a maker I wasn't myself. Market doesn't dictate creation," he added.

The director said only a handful of filmmakers are interested in the genre of family dramas. "Objectively speaking, not many writers are thinking like that because perhaps not many people are growing up in an environment where they can think of these emotions. As I'm growing older, I feel more and more responsible that we have to tell these stories and make such films. If we don't, who will? Film is a powerful medium. It's like a social gathering where you can change the mindset. I feel the need to make more of these films," Barjatya added.

The director said he is happy to have produced the buddy-drama Hum Chaar, under his family production banner Rajshri Films. "Hum Chaar is our step towards being modern yet rooted. I was waiting for a subject which can talk about values, indirectly, to a younger audience. My audience is 35 plus. You will come to watch my films primarily to accompany your grandparents. When the director Abhishek Dixit met me, he said lets redefine family. The film has kept the Rajshri sensibility intact and yet it doesn't have my impression. It's his world," he added. —PTI

Progressive thinking has motivated women to break barriers, says Taapsee Pannu

Taapsee Pannu, who has been roped in as the brand ambassador for a snack brand, says it is imperative to celebrate progressive thinking amongst women as it has kept them motivated to break barriers.

The brand has come up with a new tagline 'Khayal toh Chatpata hai', which celebrates progressive thinking that young Indian homemakers bring in to traditional Indian families. "Indian homemakers have been strong torch bearers for bringing about progressive changes in their family lives and the society at large. I strongly believe that it is imperative to celebrate this progressive thinking amongst women, that has kept them motivated to break barriers and pursue careers and passions," Taapsee said.

The Naam Shabana actress says she sees the association as another opportunity to continue to lend her voice to conversations that represent the modern Indian women. "It's time we celebrate the women who rule our homes", she said.

The new tagline underlines the brand's efforts to recognise the Indian homemaker, who have been the central force in bringing families together. —IANS

Kalki, Gulshan's film gets digital premiere

Candy Flip starring Kalki Koechlin and Gulshan Devaiah was premiered on Netflix yesterday. The film directed by Shah Nawaz NK is based in Goa and talks about the drug menace that has plagued the state and various other parts of the country.

Speaking about the film, Kalki says, "The youth is increasingly getting into the habit of taking drugs. Hiding this issue is the wrong way to deal with it. Youngsters need to know what kinds of drugs are out there and what happens when you take them. Education about this abuse is important."

Produced by Surendra K Hegde and Balasubramanyam TC under their banner 23 Entertainment, also stars Prashant Prakash, Prakash Raj and Valeriya Polyanychko in pivotal roles.

"We are happy that the film is taken by Netflix. A platform like this will help the film reach out to a wider audience. We had made the film keeping the cause in mind and if the film helps to promote the cause of drug abuse, we are more than happy," producer Surendra K Hegde said.

Abhishek's sweet tribute for pa Amitabh

As Amitabh Bachchan completed his 50 years in the Hindi film industry on Friday, his son and actor Abhishek Bachchan celebrates the "talent and brilliance" of the megastar. Abhishek took to Instagram to pen down a heartfelt post for his father on his 50 glorious years in Bollywood.

The Yuva actor also shared a photograph of himself wearing a sweatshirt with a print of Amitabh's photograph on it. "Icon! To me, he is so much more. My father, best friend, guide, best critic, greatest support, idol — herol 50 years today he started his journey in films. Even today, his passion and love for his craft and work is the same as I'm sure it was on the first day. Dearest Pa, today we celebrate you, your talent, your passion, your brilliance and your immense influence," he wrote alongside the image.

The actor said he cannot wait to see what the 76-year-old thespian has in store for the "next 50 years". "The coolest thing he taught me today... As I went, in the morning to wish him for completing 50 years of being an actor and to tell him that I was leaving for work — I asked him 'where he was all ready to go to?' He said — to work," he wrote. In February 1969, Amitabh signed his debut film "Saa Hindustani" directed by Khwaja Ahmad Abbas. After that, he went on to give some of the iconic films like Deewaar, Mard, Sholay, Don, Coolie, Silsila, Agneepath and Piku. —IANS

Lady Gaga breaks up with fiancé Christian Carino?

American singer-songwriter Lady Gaga and her fiancé Christian Carino may have called it quits four months after their engagement. A source told E! News that the Shallow singer and her fiancé split last week. The source also revealed that Carino is "desperately trying to get back together" with her.

However, two separate sources shared that the duo are still together. Fans speculated that the couple broke up when Carino didn't attend the 2019 Grammys with Gaga. Gaga didn't even wear her engagement ring to the award ceremony.

"She just wasn't wearing her ring due to performing. They have put all their wedding plans on hold until after Gaga's busy season, but still plan to get married this year," E! News quoted a source, as saying. However, the duo started making headlines after the star didn't mention her fiancé during her acceptance speech when she won a Grammy in best pop duo/group performance category for Shallow. —ANI

When Salman made Nitin happy

After bagging several accolades and a National award for his debut Filmistaan, director Nitin Kakkar is ready with his next Notebook, a love story set in Kashmir, which he says is not a "run-of-the-mill" romantic saga. Nitin says even though it is a love story, it doesn't follow the cliché Romeo-Juliet template.

"There is nothing clichéd about Notebook. As a director I was able to go beyond clichés. There is a conflict in the film but of a different type. It is not run-of-the-mill story. It is not in the classic romeo-juliet format. I thought Salman bhai (Salman Khan) might be sceptical because it is not conventional. The film has a world of its own, which is cinematic and real," Nitin said.

One of the producers of the film, Ashwin Varde of Cine! Studios, discussed the story with Nitin, who felt this project would be an apt vehicle to launch Salman's childhood friend's son Zaheer Iqbal.

The film also marks the debut of Pranutan, daughter of actor Mohnish Bahl and granddaughter of yesteryear actor Nutan.

"Everybody would be looking forward to her performance. She is an amazing performer, she has shown maturity and I think she is here to stay. Zaheer is an honest and sensible actor. They both are brave to chose a film like 'Notebook' because it is not a conventional film, they are playing characters and not a hero and heroine," Nitin says. —PTI

35% increase in employment of India seafarers: Government

NEW DELHI: The number of Indian seafarers employed on Indian or foreign flag vessels increased by 35 per cent in 2018 on the back of a series of measures taken in the last four years, the Shipping Ministry said on Friday. "The shipping sector has witnessed an unprecedented growth of 35 per cent in the number of Indian seafarers..." the ministry said in a statement. The number increased to 2,08,799 in 2018 from 1,54,349 in 2017, it said. Along with this, the number of students placed for on-board training also rose from 14,307 in 2017 to 19,545 in 2018, registering a jump of nearly 37 per cent. The growth in the number of Indian seafarers has been possible due to a series of measures taken by the government in the last four years to improve the standards of maritime training, increase on-board training opportunities, improve the examination and certification system and facilitate ease of doing business. The number of seafarers employed on Indian flag vessels increased from 22,103 last year to 27,364 this year, while the employment figures on foreign vessels went up from 60,194 to 72,327 during the same period.

Some employees of Royal Enfield Oragadam plant go on strike

CHENNAI: A section of employees at a manufacturing facility of Royal Enfield at Oragadam near here is on strike since February 13, opposing the transfer of some of their colleagues. According to Royal Enfield union sources, the workers kept off work from the second shift on February 13 to protest the transfer of employees who were also office-bearers of the trade union. "Six people, including two women workers, have been transferred to various locations across the country. We opposed this and issued a notice that we will go on strike from February 13," union sources told PTI. Sticking to the demand to cancel the transfer, a senior union official said a tripartite meeting was held in the presence of district labour commissioner on Thursday, but it remained inconclusive.

Five mineral blocks of 55 auctioned are operational: Minister

NEW DELHI: The government on Friday said of the 55 mines that were auctioned in the last three years, five mineral blocks have become operational and two to three more mines will start operation by next month-end. "In the last three years we have auctioned around 55 mines. Around five (mineral blocks) have been operational. Next fiscal another 15 mines are going to be operational," Mines Secretary Anil Gopishankar Mukim told reporters. He further noted that two to three more mines will start operation in the ongoing fiscal. The Centre had earlier said it was considering granting all approvals, including environmental clearance, to mineral blocks before putting them up for sale, a move that may give a push to the auctions. The idea is to fast-track auctioning and that issues related to green clearances and land rights are addressed upfront, the government had earlier said.

Pak economy will be hit by MFN status withdrawal: Niti Aayog VC

AGENCIES
New Delhi

India's decision to withdraw the 'most favoured nation' (MFN) status to Pakistan will adversely impact the neighbouring country's economy which is already in "deep trouble". Niti Aayog Vice Chairman Rajiv Kumar said on Friday. India on Friday revoked the MFN status to Pakistan in the aftermath of the Pulwama terror attack. "The impact of India's decision to withdraw MFN status on Pakistan economy, which is already in deep trouble, could be significant. "On the other hand, India's exports are marginally dependent on Pakistan's market and these can be successively diverted to markets in the Middle East," Kumar told PTI. He further said India's large market will now be closed for Pakistani exports. Noting that India has always refrained from taking any trade and commerce related measures despite repeated provocations from Pakistan, Kumar said, "India has been forced to take the step of withdrawing MFN status for Pakistan after the latest extreme provocation in Kashmir."

In a media briefing after the meeting of the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS), Finance Minister Arun Jaitley said the MFN status to Pakistan stands revoked. Withdrawal of the MFN status would significantly hit Pakistan's exports to India, which stood at USD 488.5 million (around Rs 3,482.3 crore) in 2017-18.

The MFN status was accorded under World Trade Organisation's (WTO) General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Both India and Pakistan are signatories to this, and are members of the WTO. Under the MFN pact, a WTO member country is obliged to treat the other trading nation in a non-discriminatory manner, especially with regard to customs duty and other levies. Withdrawal of the status would mean that India could impose heavy customs duties on Pakistani goods.

In 2012, Pakistan had committed to giving the MFN status to India but retracted later due to domestic opposition. Instead of MFN, Pakistan said it was working on granting Non-Discriminatory Market Access (NDMA) status to India but that also was not announced.

Total India-Pakistan trade has increased marginally to USD 2.41 billion in 2017-18 as against USD 2.27 billion in 2016-17. India imported goods worth USD 488.5 million in 2017-18 and exported goods worth USD 1.92 billion in that fiscal.

Trade deficit narrows; exports grow marginally

AGENCIES
New Delhi

The country's exports grew marginally by 3.74 per cent in January due to subdued performance of key sectors including engineering, leather, and gems & jewellery, even as the trade deficit narrowed to USD 14.73 billion.

According to data from the commerce ministry, exports during the month increased to USD 26.36 billion, compared with USD 25.41 billion in January 2018. Exports growth remained almost flat in November and December 2018.

In January engineering exports grew by only one per cent, while leather; and gems & jewellery recorded a growth of 0.33 per cent and 6.67 per cent, respectively. Petroleum exports contracted by 19 per cent.

Imports also remained almost flat at USD 41 billion during the last month. The trade deficit stood at USD 15.67 billion in January 2018. However, the deficit in January 2019 widened as compared to December 2018 when it stood at USD 13 billion.

Federation of Indian Export Organisations (FIEO), President, Ganesh Kumar Gupta said the nominal growth in exports is due to tough global condition and some constraints on the domestic front. "Global trade growth is slowing down and global economies, including China and South East Asian nations, are also facing contraction in manufacturing worsening the fragile global situation," he said.

He demanded immediate support including augmenting the flow of credit, higher tax deduction for research and development and better fiscal support for boosting exports.

The trade deficit widened to USD 155.93 billion during the 10 months of the current fiscal from USD 136.25 billion in April-January 2017-18.

India Inc seeks stringent action against attackers

AGENCIES / Mumbai

Captains of industry on Friday joined fellow Indians in expressing solidarity in condemning the Pulwama terror attack and sought stringent action against the perpetrators.

The USD 20-billion Mahindra group's chairman Anand Mahindra questioned how easily we tend to move on as a society, presuming that everything is normal, but an attack "shatters all illusions". "How easily we allow ourselves to believe that the world is normal and that the small irritants and small victories in our daily routines are all that matter. One blast takes many lives and shatters all illusions," he said. RPG Enterprises' Harsh Goenka relayed out views of a senior journalist for his followers. "India must respond. Pakistan cant be allowed to get away with these attacks. I am sure that there will be a strong military response within the next week. And no matter which party we back, all Indians must unite against Pakistan and the terrorists it feeds, shelters and arms," read the tweet.

Taking a stern view against Jammu and Kashmir, Sajjan Jindal, chief of the diversified JSW Group, demanded abolition of Article 370 which grants special status to the state of Jammu and Kashmir, by calling an emergency session of Parliament.

Media entrepreneur turned venture capitalist Ronnie Screwala said he is "absolutely horrified" watching the rise in casualties and added "Only the strongest of action and sustained counter attack to wipe the threat is called for. And this time we cannot just retaliate but keep the proactive step of sustained offensive."

Pharma, metal stocks pull markets down

AGENCIES / Mumbai

On Friday, the benchmark indices reeled under selling pressure for the seventh straight session. This was due to pharma, metal, auto and banking stocks led losses amid sustained foreign fund outflows and muted earnings season. However, emergence of buying in power, energy and PSU stocks in the last one hour of the session and covering-up of short positions by speculators wiped off most losses.

The 30-share Sensex after slumping 365 points to hit a low of 35,510.97 intra-day, recouped most of the lost ground on fag-end buying, and finally settled with a modest fall of 67.27 points, or 0.19 per cent down at 35,808.95.

The index has now lost over 1,165 points in seven sessions. The broader NSE Nifty, after shuffling between 10,620.40 and 10,785.75, settled at 10,724.40 points, down by 21.65 points, or 0.20 per cent. On a weekly basis, the BSE index dropped 737.53 points, or over 2 per cent; while NSE Nifty fell 219.20 points, or 2 per cent. Top losers include Sun Pharma, Tata Steel, Vedanta, Hero MotoCorp, Bajaj Finance, SBI, Axis Bank, HDFC and Maruti, falling up to 3.94 per cent.

Brokerage firm asks RBI to be transparent after the Yes Bank-Kapoor instance

AGENCIES / Mumbai

There is a need for the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to be more transparent on decisions like curtailing the term of Yes Bank's managing director and chief executive Rana Kapoor; a foreign brokerage said on Friday. This comes two days after the private sector lender reported that the RBI had not find any divergence or under-reporting of non-performing assets for fiscal year 2017-18.

"...the question of why the RBI ordered Kapoor to go remains unanswered. We believe it is time for the RBI to increase transparency on decisions that have a significant impact on minority shareholders," Jefferies, the brokerage, said in a note.

The brokerage pointed out that the Yes Bank stock, which gained since the zero divergence news, had lost 30 per cent following the RBI curtailing the term of Kapoor in September last year.

It can be noted that the terms of both Kapoor as well as Shikha Sharma, the head of its larger rival Axis Bank, were curtailed by the regulator. At the time of announcing these decision, the regulator failed to communicate the reason for these actions.

Both the banks were found to have under reported their stock of NPAs by a cumulative Rs 10,000 crore each for two consecutive fiscal years by the RBI, leading to a wide speculation if this was the reason for the removal.

The brokerage said it thought the refusal to allow the reappointment of Kapoor by the RBI was taken by it as a "black swan" event. "However; with the RBI's audit report now citing 'nil' NPA divergence, we seem to have mistaken a mere crow for a swan," it said. It added a divergence number higher than last year's would have been a worry, but the latest disclosure of zero divergence has come as a "shock".

According to earlier reports, sources had said the RBI had cited "serious lapses" in governance and a "poor compliance culture" at Yes Bank as reasons for its "regulatory discomfort" in allowing Kapoor to continue to head the lender.

Cap lifted on FPI investments in corporate bonds

AGENCIES / Mumbai

At the sixth bi-monthly monetary policy statement 2018-19, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) announced that it will withdraw the 20 per cent limit on investments by foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) in corporate bonds of an entity. A week after the announcement, the RBI has issued the direction for the same.

This decision was taken to encourage more foreign investments. As part of the review of the FPI investment in corporate debt undertaken in April 2018, it was stipulated that no FPI should have an exposure of more than 20 per cent of its corporate bond portfolio to a single corporate (including exposure to entities related to the corporate).

While the provision was aimed at incentivising FPIs to maintain a portfolio of assets, market feedback indicates that FPIs have been constrained by this stipulation, the RBI said. "...in order to encourage a wider spectrum of investors to access the Indian corporate debt market, it has been decided to withdraw this provision with immediate effect," the central bank said.

The RBI said the directions in this regard have been issued the Foreign Exchange Management Act.

Forex reserves declined by USD 2.11 bn to USD 398.12 bn

AGENCIES / Mumbai

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in its latest data stated that the country's foreign exchange reserves declined by USD 2.11 billion to USD 398.12 billion in the week to February 8, due to fall in foreign currency assets.

In the previous week, the reserves had surged by USD 2.063 billion to USD 400.24 billion. In the reporting week, foreign currency assets, a major component of the overall reserves, fell by USD 2.448 billion to USD 370.981 billion.

Expressed in US dollars, foreign currency assets include the effect of appreciation or depreciation of non-US currencies such as the euro, pound and yen held in the reserves.

The reserves had touched a record high of USD 426.028 billion in the week to April 13, 2018. Since then, the forex kitty has been on a slide and is now down by over USD 31 billion.

Gold reserves remained unchanged at USD 22.686 billion in the reporting week, the data showed. The special drawing rights with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) decreased by USD 8 million to USD 1.462 billion.

Jaypee Infra: NBCC bids; claims sweet deal for stakeholders

AGENCIES
New Delhi

State-owned NBCC Ltd on Friday said it has bid to take over bankruptcy-bound Jaypee Infratech and complete stalled housing projects in Noida, Uttar Pradesh.

NBCC Chairman and Managing Director Anoop Kumar Mittal said the company is "keen to acquire" Jaypee Infratech and complete over 20,000 housing units. He declined to share the bid value but said the resolution plan submitted by the company is beneficial for all stakeholders, including banks, home buyers and NBCC.

In a filing to the BSE, NBCC said it has submitted the bid to Interim Resolution Professional Anuj Jain, reports PTI. "Resolution Plan in respect of Jaypee Infratech has been submitted by the NBCC to the Interim Resolution Professional on 15th February, 2019," the filing said.

Jain, the IRP who is carrying out the insolvency process, had earlier shortlisted four players—NBCC, Kotak Investment, Singapore-based Cube Highways and Suraksha group—to submit their resolution plans by February 15.

A meeting of the committee of creditors will be held on February 18 to discuss bids. In October 2018, Jain started a fresh initiative to revive Jaypee Infratech on the National Company Law Tribunal's (NCLT) direction after lenders rejected the over Rs 7,000-crore bid of Suraksha group.

Sebi relaxes norms for Wipro's buyback plan

NEW DELHI: Markets regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Friday granted certain exemptions to Wipro from the buyback norms in case of the IT firm's proposed share repurchase programme, according to an order by the watchdog.

Wipro in November 2018 had filed an application with the SEBI to seek exemption from the strict enforcement of the buyback norms for the merger of its four wholly-owned subsidiaries with itself. The IT firm said its scheme of amalgamation is pending for sanction of the NCLT (National Company Law Tribunal) and considering the backlog of cases at NCLT, there could be delays and the firm cannot anticipate the time that it may take to complete the merger process.

Essel Grp's Diligent Media sells land for Rs 57 crore

In line with the no-objection/approval issued by MIDC-the Lessor and the changes in the assignable area (based on MIDC requirement), the company had concluded the above transaction by executing and registering a deed of assignment, assigning the leasehold land to CTRL S (India) Pvt Ltd, Diligent Media Corporation said in BSE filing. It said, the land plot measuring 14,533.76 square meters, housed storage and other facilities incidental to the printing press activities.

GMR Infra: Panel set up to 'spin off' airport biz; receives proposals

AGENCIES
Hyderabad

GMR Infrastructure Ltd has said it has constituted a sub-committee of its board for a possible spin-off of the airport business as it sees a USD 100-billion investment opportunity in India.

According to a regulatory filing, the company has already received multiple proposals from the investors for the airport business, which are currently being evaluated and shall be placed at the meeting of the newly constituted sub-committee.

"We wish to inform that the board of directors of the company at its meeting held on February 14 approved the constitution of the sub-committee to consider and evaluate options of demerger to unlock shareholder value in the existing business of the group," the filing said.

The consideration and evaluation of option of demerger would pave way for the next phase of growth considering the stated intent of the government for faster privatisation of airports in the country.

Chelsea edge out Malmo, as Arsenal suffer Europa League setback first-leg

AGENCIES

Paris

Chelsea claimed a 2-1 victory at Malmo in the Europa League last-32 first leg to ease some of the pressure on beleaguered coach Maurizio Sarri, while Arsenal suffered a shock loss to BATE Borisov.

Visitors Chelsea desperately needed a response after back-to-back humiliating away losses, with last Sunday's 6-0 thrashing by Manchester City following a 4-0 reverse at Bournemouth.

Ross Barkley took advantage of a defensive lapse by the home team on Thursday to put Chelsea ahead on the half-hour mark, with Olivier Giroud adding a 58th-minute second before Malmo's late goal gave them a glimmer of hope ahead of next week's return match at Stamford Bridge.

Chelsea face Manchester United in the FA Cup on Monday, before facing City again in the League Cup final on February 24.

Arsenal face an uphill battle to progress after a 1-0 defeat by BATE in a game which saw Alexandre Lacazette sent off for elbowing Aleksandar Filipovic with five minutes remaining.

"I am happy because we played with confidence and it wasn't really very easy after the last match (the defeat by City)," said Sarri.

"I think I am always confident but sometimes we had the wrong approach with matches so we need to be careful in every match."

Sarri named a strong team, although he did leave Gonzalo Higuain and Eden Hazard on the bench. Chelsea found themselves up against a spirited Malmo outfit in the first half, roared on by a vociferous home crowd, but kept the Swedes at arm's length before Barkley grabbed their first away goal of 2019.

Pedro swung over a cross which Lasse Nielsen should have headed away, but the defender failed with his attempted volleyed clearance and Barkley was on hand to control and stab into the net.

Uwe Rosler's Malmo piled on the pressure at the end of the half, but Barkley twice produced crucial headers at the other end to keep Chelsea in front.

But the Premier League giants took total control of the tie in the 58th minute with a wonderful counter-attack.

Barkley led the charge before picking out Willian, and the Brazilian powered to the byline before cutting the ball back for Giroud to flick in a cool back-heeled finish.

The French striker has now scored five goals in six Europa League games this season, despite only netting once in 23 matches in domestic competitions.

But Malmo did grab the goal their efforts deserved in the 80th minute, as Anders Christiansen slotted past Chelsea goalkeeper Kepa Arrizabalaga.

Stanislav Dragun put BATE ahead just before the break in Barysaw and Arsenal never threatened an equaliser, with Lacazette's late dismissal also ruling him out of next week's second leg in London.

Unai Emery's side have now won just two of their last nine away matches - last weekend's victory over the Premier League's bottom club Huddersfield and an FA Cup win against third-tier Blackpool.

Elsewhere, Napoli began life without record goalscorer Marek Hamsik with a 3-1 win in a fiery atmosphere at FC Zurich.

Lorenzo Insigne, who has replaced Hamsik as captain after the Slovakian's move to China, scored the opening goal, with Jose Callejon and Piotr Zieliński also on target.

Celtic's European adventures appear to be over for another season after being outclassed 2-0 by Valencia at Parkhead.

Denis Cheryshev and Ruben Sobrinho got the goals as the Spaniards extended their recent unbeaten run to six matches. Inter Milan claimed a 1-0 win at Rapid Vienna despite Mauro Icardi snubbing the trip after being stripped of the captaincy over a contract row, with Lautaro Martinez scoring the winner from the penalty spot.

Wissam Ben Yedder's 22nd-minute strike helped record five-time winners Sevilla take a large step towards the last 16 with a 1-0 victory over Lazio in Rome, while Benfica backed up their 10-0 weekend thumping of Nacional by winning 2-1 at Galatasaray.

Salzburg, semi-finalists last season, lost 2-1 at Club Brugge, while 10-man Sporting Lisbon were beaten 1-0 by Villarreal in the Portuguese capital.

P V Sindhu and Saina Nehwal won their respective semi-finals in contrasting fashion to set up a mouth-watering women's singles summit showdown at the 83rd Yonex-Sunrise Senior National Championship here Saturday.

In a repeat of last edition's title clash at Nagpur, the two stalwarts will look to outdo each other and write another chapter in their on-field rivalry.

While Sindhu overcame a challenge from Assam's promising 19-year-old Ashmita Chaliha 21-10 22-20 in the first semifinal, Saina got the better of Nagpur qualifier Vaishnavi Bhale, who was part of India's Uber Cup squad last year, 21-15 21-14 to storm into the finals.

with a fine 21-18, 21-17 win over Shlok Ramchandran and Mithula UK.

South Africa firmly in control against Sri Lanka

DURBAN: South Africa took three Sri Lankan wickets in three overs to finish in a strong position on the third day of the first Test on Friday. Sri Lanka, needing 304 to win, were 83 for three at the close, 221 runs short of their target. The tourists started their chase with Dimuth Karunaratne and Lahiru Thirimanne putting on 42 but both openers were out in the space of five balls, to be followed shortly afterwards by Kusal Mendis.

Pant set for WC berth pipping Karthik, Rahul likely to be reserve opener

BABYSITTING OWN DREAM

Selectors announce 15-member ODI squad for the Australia series

AGENCIES
Mumbai

Young Rishabh Pant took a giant stride towards realising his World Cup dream, pipping veteran Dinesh Karthik in the 15-member ODI squad for the Australia series while KL Rahul all but clinched the reserve opener's slot for the mega event by earning a recall.

While the selectors announced two different teams for the first two and last three ODIs, the side that is expected to travel to England will be the one for the last three games of the series. The engagement with Australia starts February 24 with the first T20 International in Visakhapatnam, while the World Cup is scheduled from May 30.

Rahul returned to the side after he was controversially called back midway through the tour of Australia following his and all-rounder Hardik Pandya's loose talk on women in a TV show.

Regular captain Virat Kohli and pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah are also back in the squad for the entire Australia series after a break and even vice-captain Rohit Sharma will not be resting.

The committee headed by MSK Prasad also announced the T20 squad for the two-match series, in which rookie Punjab leg-spinner Mayank Markande made the cut and Kuldeep Yadav was rested.

"...as a back-up spinner we are looking at him (Markande). So we have been grooming him through the India A process and he has taken a five-wicket haul (against England Lions on Friday)," Prasad said after the selection meeting.

However, all eyes were on the ODI squad which is supposed to be a mirror image of the team that will be travelling to England.

One of the biggest calls was regarding the second wicket-keeper-cum-reserve batsman's slot. Karthik seems to have missed the bus to a much younger Pant, who is considered to be the future of Indian cricket and heir apparent to Mahendra Singh Dhoni behind the stumps.

Karthik was criticised for his on-field decision-making during the lost final T20 International against New Zealand in Hamilton. The Tamil Nadu veteran refused a single when Krunal Pandya was on a rampage at the other end.

Karthik later justified the call by saying that he was confident of pulling off a six which didn't happen as India lost by four runs.

Pant, on the other hand, who is famously known as a babysitter after an on-field banter between Rishabh Pant and Tim Paine went viral, is yet to get a significant knock in ODIs but his big-hitting prowess has made him a potential match-winner in big-ticket events like the World Cup.

Karthik's chances of making it to the World Cup are even more slim after Rahul made the cut on the back of his 89 and 81 for India A against England Lions. Punjab seamer Siddarth Kaul seems to have joined the race for the fourth pacer's slot at the business end of the preparation cycle.

"Siddarth Kaul is doing well and is now a part of the mix," Prasad said.

Kaul made it to the first two ODIs from which Bhuvneshwar Kumar has been rested but more importantly, there are no left-arm seamers in the line-up.

Khaleel Ahmed, who was a disappointment in New Zealand, has been dropped and with Jaydev Unadkat not considered for selection, it is unlikely that the scenario will change prior to the World Cup unless there are some ground-breaking performances in the IPL.

Vijay Shankar's decent run with the bat in New Zealand and his wicket-to-wicket seam up bowling makes him the back-up all-rounder in English conditions.

In fact Prasad admitted that Shankar's "recent performances" have "changed the dynamics of the squad".

With two leg-spinners Kuldeep Yadav and Yuzvendra Chahal being automatic selections, there are no finger spinners in the squad. Kedar Jadhav is expected to

- Rishabh Pant is not a mere contributor but a pure match-winner who should be picked for the World Cup.
- If you look at India's batting line up, save Dhawan, there aren't any left-handers in the top seven. You need variety with a left-right combination, where Rishabh perfectly fits.
- Pant, 21, has scored Test hundreds in his first series in England and Australia.
- Secondly, Rishabh can bat at any position between Nos 1 to 7 and can be used as a floater.
- His ability to hit sixes effortlessly from the word go and his fearless approach will be required in crunch situation.
- This team has only three clear match-winners and they are Virat Kohli, Rohit Sharma and Jasprit Bumrah. Pant will provide the X-factor with similar abilities.

chip in with a few overs of off-break.

Quizzed on the oft-repeated aspect of workload management, BCCI Acting Secretary Amitabh Choudhary said the IPL franchises are being spoken to on the matter.

"We have been in conversation with the franchisees on all issues concerning the game of cricket as well as the interests of the country," he said.

Prowl with patience

Coach Raman wants skipper Mandhana to spend more time at the crease

AGENCIES

India women's team opener Smriti Mandhana, who is in blazing form, said here on Friday that the team's coach W V Raman has set her targets to bat for a specific number of overs to develop her patience at the crease.

"He (Raman) has been telling me to play 30 overs in ODIs as he knows that if I bat till 30 overs, I will continue to bat. And in 20 over games he has been telling me to bat for 13 overs," the 22-year-old Mandhana said.

"He's giving me targets to bat a certain number of balls, because strike rate and those kinds of things never concern me, the only problem is the patience aspect. He is helping with that and giving me targets to bat through these many balls and that many overs and that is being great," said the left-handed batswoman.

Mandhana, asked specifically whether the team was too dependent on her, replied that the perception was not correct. "No, I don't think so. We have got a lot of match-winners in our team. It is just that sometimes someone goes through a lean patch and you need to cover up for your teammate. And sometimes that would be the case, if I am not going, the middle order will look after me (help me).

"So you can't say that they (other batswomen) are too dependent, but I think the main responsibility as a batter is to win matches and dependence never comes (in the way)," she stressed.

During last year's women's T20 tri-series, Mandhana had said that she was throwing her wicket away after setting herself in.

Young Mayank Markande scalped five wickets to spun India 'A' to a convincing innings and 68-run win over England Lions in the second unofficial Test to clinch the two-match series 1-0 here Friday.

Leg-spinner Markande (5 for 31) spun a web around the visitors to bowl them out for 180 in the second innings after following on.

Hanuma Vihari on Friday scripted history by becoming the first player to score a hat-trick of hundreds in the Irani Cup, helping Rest of India rally and set Vidarbha a tricky 280-run target here.

Tennis player comes under NADA hammer

Mumbai-based teenager is under provisional suspension after consuming cough syrup and a tablet which contained WADA banned substance

JOE WILLIAMS
Mumbai

National Anti-Doping Agency (NADA) has handed an upcoming tennis player Aryaan Bhatia a provisional suspension after he failed in dope test.

Mumbai-based Bhatia's urine sample was taken during the Fenesta Open National Tennis Championship held here in October last year. Incidentally, NADA had collected samples for the first time from tennis players during the championship, and he the first tennis player to come under the NADA hammer.

"We respect NADA's verdict, but he took cough syrup and a few tablets for cold and cough, and we were not aware that one of the tablet did contain 1.5% of banned substance," said his father Ajay Bhatia while talking to

Free Press Journal, on Friday.

Aryaan took Alex syrup and tablet Wysolone, which contained Prednisole — one of the banned substance.

"We are going for hearing and are hopeful my son will come clear," added Ajay while saying that Aryaan has locked himself in his room, as he wants to stay away from everyone.

"This is something which is very sad, the boy is innocent and I am sure he will come clean after some time," said the former Davis Cup coach Nandan Bal.

"He has been honest and did tell the NADA officials when they took his sample, that he did take medicine for cold and cough, and unfortunately for this budding player; one of the component of this medicine contained 1.5% of the WADA (World Anti-Doping Agency) banned drug and has claimed the unwanted fame," added Bal.

"He is a well-disciplined boy and he is not a lad who would take such a step," said Ram Rao of the PracTennis from where Bhatia started playing tennis.

"I can vouch anything, he is not a player who would make such a move," added Rao.

Meanwhile, the national doping watchdog also provisionally suspended seven other sportspersons last month for flunking dope tests. They are Sandeep Kaur (powerlifting), Ankit Gosai (handball), Jithu Thomas (volleyball), Yaipha-ba (canoeing), Vishan Singh (kayaking and canoeing) and Shivam Kasana (cycling).

The NADA also said that it has conducted 675 dope tests, including 57 blood samples in January 2019.
